STOP! Mr. Fulco manages to keep his sense of humor throughout the year. Too bad Jessica Demello is on the other side of that!

More than a paper! LaMarcus Nelson enjoys a copy of The Utopia.

2003! Seniors Travis Bloxom, Sandy Sharp, and Tim Nicholson.

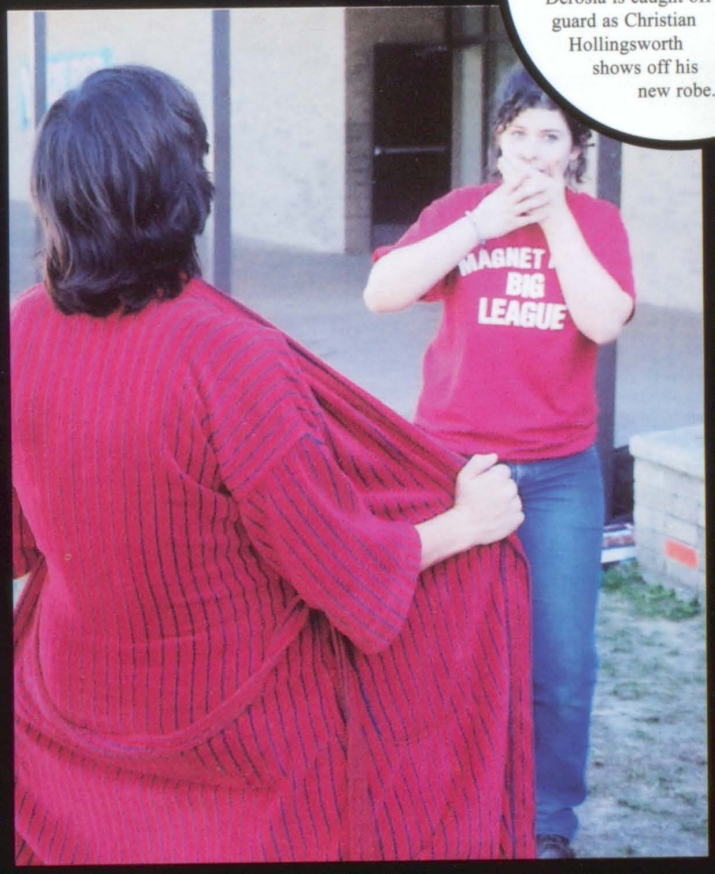

Kickin' it at the picnic. Freshmen girls Karyn Kistler, Samantha Lyon, Monica Gehrig, and Hanna Gamble enjoy the Homecoming picnic. Hey Monica, you've got something on your face!

Surprise! Amy Derosia is caught off guard as Christian Hollingsworth shows off his new robe.

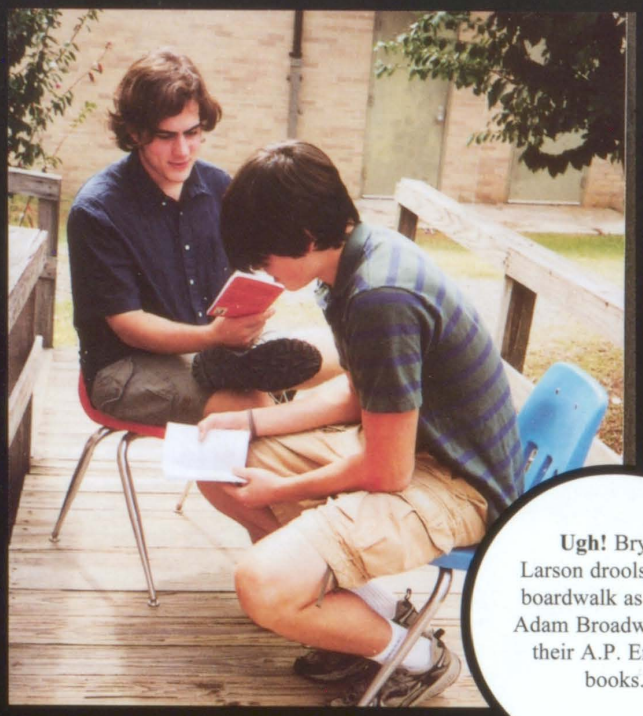

Sibling Rivalry. The Yancey brothers, Richard and David, talk a little trash over the seat to Laurie and Leslie Strickland on the plane to England. I bet that was one long trip!

The atmosphere at Magnet High is hard to explain. It's a different kind of school with unique students, faculty, and administration. At lunch we sit outside and play frisbee in the courtyard (occasionally Ms. Rounds joins in on the fun). We have fencing, picnics, pickle ball tournaments, lacrosse, spirit rallies, and some hard-core soccer fans. There is a mutual respect for everyone at the school, and that's how we interact so well. At Magnet, teachers have a sense of humor and are (for the most part) accommodating. Students manage to stay self-motivated while balancing friends, family, and other activities. Magnet is here not only for education but also for fun and memories. It is unique and indescribable. Magnet is truly More Than Words.

Didja Know

[summer tidbits]

- Of the four seasons, the word summer is the most popular to use in the titles of films. The least preferred is autumn. A few "summer" films include, I Know What You Did Last Summer (1997), Indian Summer (1993), and A Midsummer Night's Dream (1935).
- The word August is named for Augustus Caesar (63 B.C.E.- 14 C.E.)

"Three years ago my family and I traveled to Europe and Asia, visiting family in India and Britain. The greatest part was seeing green bathrooms."
* Monika Kumar, 9th

"Summer boredom had officially set in. My friends and I got together and did whatever we could find."
- Megan Wooley, junior

"I brought chocolate soymilk and houmos (both very popular!) to the vegetarian picinc. I believe eating meat is wasteful and unhealthy."
- Leigh Anna Dwyer, sophomore

"We had a luau at Ashley West's house and ate shish kebabs; they were good."
- Kimberly Brown, senior

"This summer I went to Canada with my friend's family. Chinatown in Vancouver was great."
* James Woodward, 11th

"The summer before freshman year I spent time with my uncle in Dallas. He's really cool because he graduated from M.I.T.. with a degree in Physics. I strive to be like him.
* Sherita Lee, 12th

"Two years ago I went to New York on a choir tour. We saw all there was to see. The greatest part was standing between the twin towers and looking up"
* Josh Mathews, 11th

"This past summer my dad took me to the Bahamas. I went windsurfing and caught some wild parties."
* Amanda Murphy, 10th

Back in the Saddle Again!!

Gettin' Into the Groove during September

This is a month that gets students back into the swing of things. Students are settling in for the year and getting ready for all the new challenges to come.

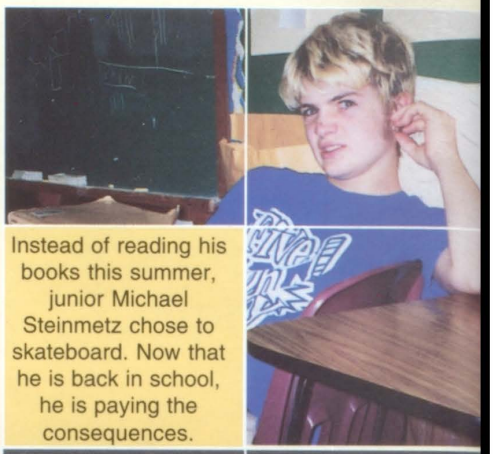

A group of freshmen and SGA members get down and dirty at the Back to School Dance. Many are sporting (ha! ha! no pun intended) their Undefeated Manget Football shirts.

On the Labor Day holiday, junior Holly Robbins relaxes on her intertube on Lake Claiborne.

The American Studies class expeirenced the life of early settlers on Puritan Day. They dressed up, played games, and ate like the religious colonists.

Instead of reading his books this summer, junior Michael Steinmetz chose to skateboard. Now that he is back in school, he is paying the consequences.

More Than Just Words

There are 7 S's in classlessnesses, expressionlessnesses, possessednesses, possessivesnesses, resistlessnesses, senselessnesses, stresslessness, and successlessness.

"For Labor Day I went to a bar-be-que with my friends and my family. It was a nice break from school."

* Morgan Woods, 9th

Senior Will Hailey rejoices as he wins a game against his foes -- the freshmen-- at the Freshmen-Senior Mixer.

Juniors Jordan Edwards, Katie Bickham, and Brad Goodwin perform "Flight 93" at the 9/11 Observance Ceremony.

Swing Those Hips, Dustin! Junior Dustin Willis grooves to the happenin' music at the rip-roaring Back to School Dance.

Magnet students display their patriotism and pride through their artwork depicting the events of September 11.

Juniors Stacy Palczynski and Laura Williamson snack on their favorite dish -- spaghetti. It's called a fork, ladies!

Hey, where'd all the water go? White-water rafting is junior John Cockburn's favorite activity on Labor Day.

"I felt honored that I was asked to speak at the assembly even though my essay was just a simple way of relating how I felt about the attacks and how it affected me."

* Katherine Lafargue, 11th

"The Freshmen - Senior Mixer was a lot of fun. I felt like I got to know the upper classmen better, and now I am not so scared of them!"

* Charlotte Gates, 9th

"The Talent Show had amazing people in it this year. It was able to show all of the great talents that we have here."

* Heather Bethly, 12th

"September is a great month because it is the beginning of the 'ber' months!!"

* Michael Ameen, 11th

Portrait of a Hero

Those who make an impact on our lives

America is full of heroes, but it is rare that we heroes Magnet had the chance to meet.

"It was inspirational. It made me want to get up and join the Air Force like a good, little boy." -Tom Fasho, senior

Col. (Ret. U.S. Army) Joseph C. Rodriguez spoke of his family and of his experience in the war.

The choir sang to the lovely music of the band before and after the ceremony.

So what exactly makes a hero?

Hero (he-ro) pl., -roes. n. 1. one who is admired and looked up to for valor, achievements, and noble qualities. 2. one who performs a particularly courageous act, esp. an act that rescues or protects someone.

"I enjoyed hearing Alison. It was well worth skipping class. I couldn't believe someone could live through a rape and attempted murder and use the story to inspire people."

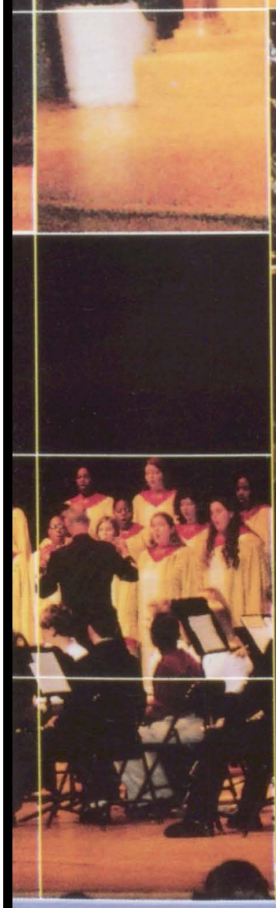

* James Reed, 11th

Miki Teer spoke about the flag and its importance. "I was so excited that I got to speak in front of one of our heroes."

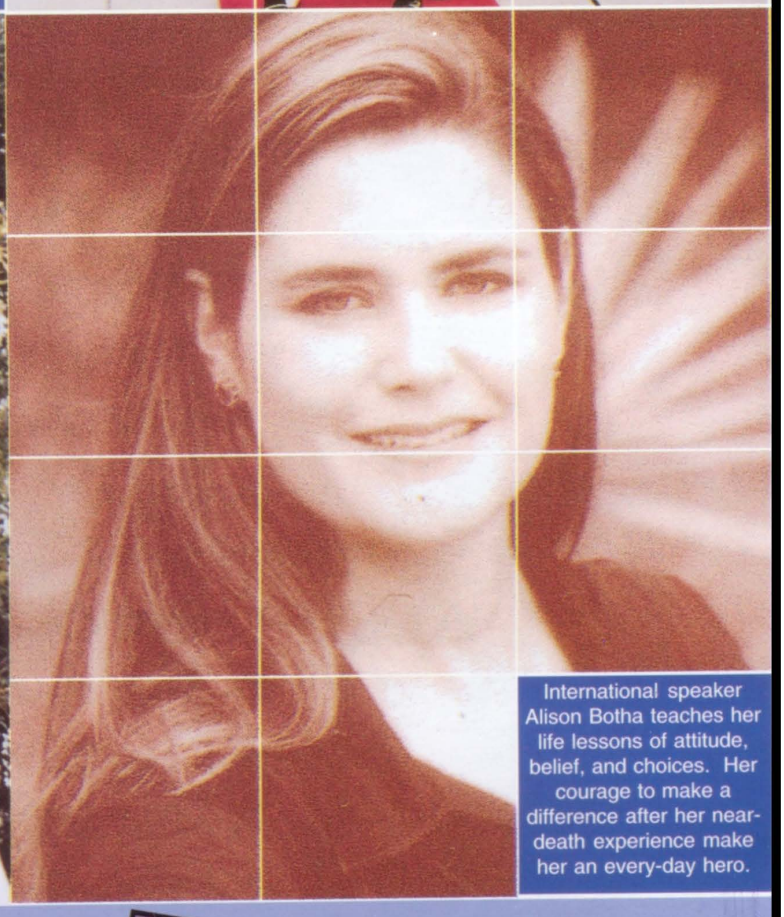

Col. Joseph Rodriguez was escorted by Miss Rounds under an arch of steel into the PAC.

International speaker Alison Botha teaches her life lessons of attitude, belief, and choices. Her courage to make a difference after her near-death experience make her an every-day hero.

"I think Alison is amazing since she speaks about her experience to students all over the country."

* Sophia Kostelanetz, 9th

"I think Alison did an amazing job. She was an absolutely wonderful speaker."

* Sumati Jain, 11th

"I thought Alison was magnificent. I want to be just like her."

* Becca Helms, 10th

"I was glad we got to see Alison because now our eyes are open to the harsh realities that are in the world and effective strategies to cope with everyday struggles."

* Steven Bradley, 12th

"I think this year's spirit rally was a lot more organized than last year's."

* Fang Zhang, 11th

Hey, where's the zipper? Nate Hendrix learns how to put a toga on during Gateway's Prandium Celebration.

Sarah Rubben, Montse Munoz, Mary Coburn, and Patricia Long enjoy showing their sophomore class pride.

These shoes are killing me and my skirt it too tight! Patrick Robertson now knows the pains of being a woman!

Tara McMullen and Mrs. Reed give a Latin presentation for Prandium in the PAC.

"I think it was unfair that the Seniors got to do a skit this year, and none of the other classes did."

* Clair Steil, 11th

"This year's spirit rally was boring and did not have as much class unity."

* Shannon Meyers, 11th

"Last year's spirit rally was spectacular, but I can't say the same for this year."

* Sarah Spivy, 10th

"This years seemed longer. And I don't mean that in a good way."

* Trey Wessler, 11th

- Tim Emge, senior

"On Thanksgiving Day, my family and I trekked to the retirement home and played bingo with the old folks."
* Katelyn Ullmer, 10th

"My sister was in England over the break, so I drove her car. Too bad I got a cd stuck in the dashboard- maybe she'll never know."
* Sam Timpa, 10th

"Ashley Mitchell, Sheryl Sylvie, and I went to New Orleans for the Bayou Classic. We had a great time!"
* Alice Morris, 12th

"Kansas City is where I spent my Thanksgiving Break. It was great, I got to shop, and I met an Abercrombie model."

Soccer manager Earl Hwang and Magnet girls' soccer coach, Jonathan Orta battle the bad guys in Lake Charles.

Jessica Angle caught some shut eye over Christmas break. After all that studying, sleep was welcomed.

'I decided to schedule my liposuction during the break, so I'd have ample time to recover. Now, I can stare at my washboard abs in the mirror every afternoon."

-Zach May, 12th

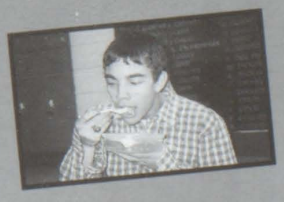

"Over Christmas break, I went to watch my brother, Andrew, who plays for Colorado, lose the Alamo Bowl in overtime."

-Austin Ward, 11th

"I did the usual Christmas thing. Santa came to visit and ate my cookies, and I visited with tons of family and friends."

-Emily Plauche, 9th

"I went to visit a friend in Dallas. I think everybody went to Dallas at least once over the break. I ate lasagna, too."

Weirdest Places At Magnet

You think you know, but you have no idea! Sure, everyone knows where the cafeteria, gym, and PAC are located. However, only a select few could actually tell you that Magnet has a vault or Mrs. Rounds has her own bathroom.

There are many places at Magnet that former students probably never discovered in their four years of attendance. We made it our mission to inform you about those hidden, unseen places. The steps up to the back of the doorless T-building, the catwalk in the PAC, the JROTC uniform supply room, the choir robe room, and the random spot under the water fountain in C-wing, are all foreign to the majority of students, or they used to be...until now.

These strange, unknown places will always be strange, but hopefully they will not remain unknown. You'll be able to recognize them, and maybe even find a new one of your own. So sit back, relax, and look at all the not-secret-anymore places at Magnet.

Magnet's Outlaws

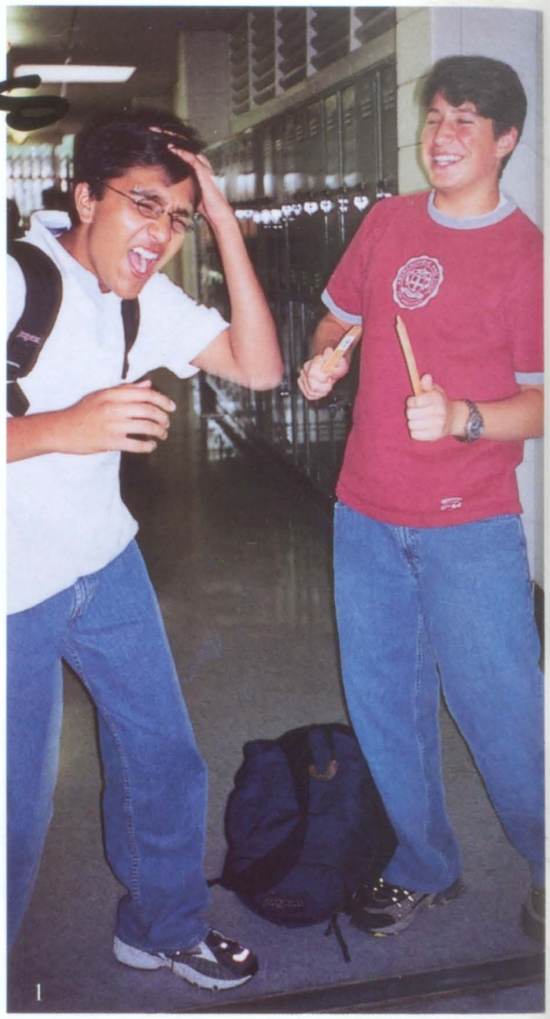

The Rules Are Meant to Be Broken

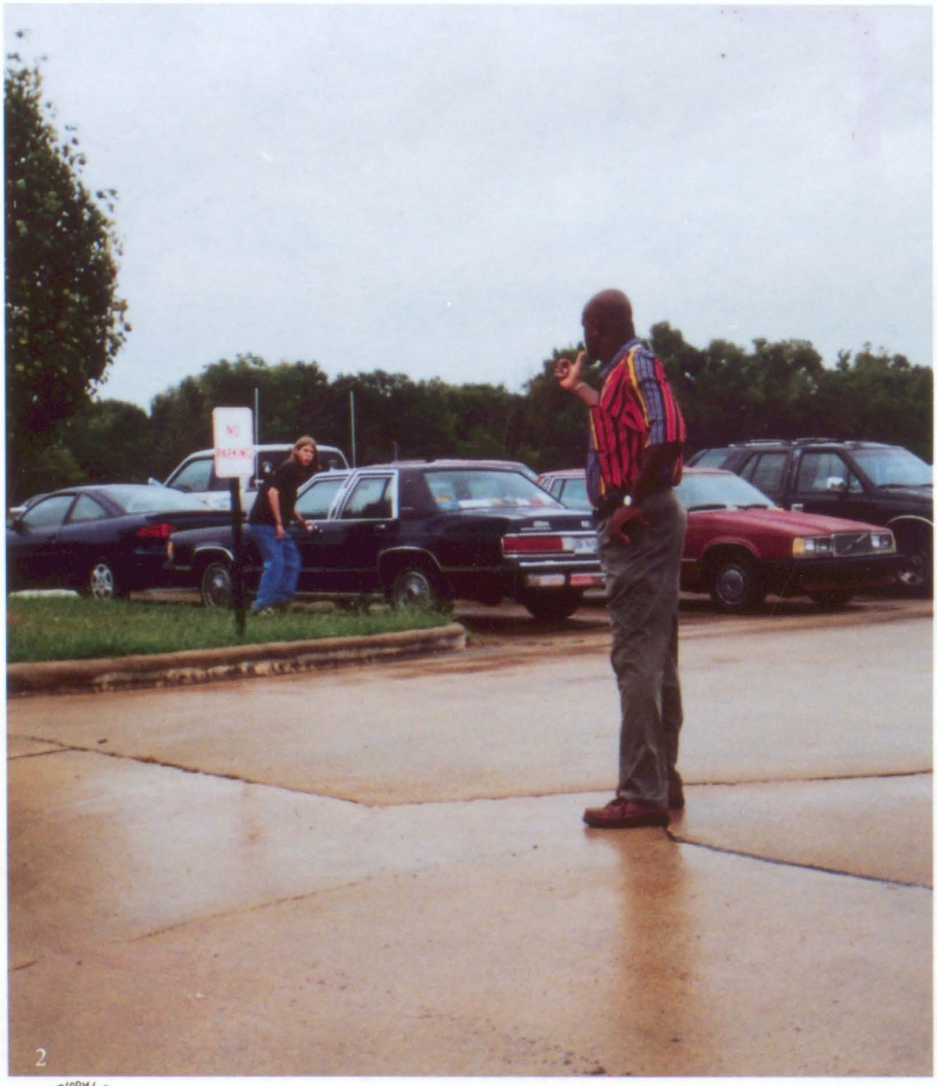

Breaking the rules . . . who doesn't do it? There are just so many, and they are incredibly tempting. After all, who wouldn't want to sneak off campus for lunch or wear too-short shorts or a sleeveless shirt on a really hot day?

It almost seems that the people who write the rules want you to break them. The rule gods dangle them in front of your face, and the simple fact that they tell you not to do it makes you want to do it even more.

Why not break the rules when you can get away with it, right? For example, getting past Mr. James and Mrs. Singletary may be tough, but it can be done. Bringing your cell phone or CD player may be risky, but many people do it anyway.

Whatever the rule, you can find an excuse. Not, that we advocate that. If you are breaking the rules, be careful, and just try not to get caught. Let's see what rules are like at Magnet, and how the students feel about them.

"My friends gave me cornskerwers that I carry with me everywhere I go. Are those illegal?"

Wheeler Bryson, sophomore

Sarah Canfield, sophomore

"It's not very hard to get away with stuff at Magnet, and we can be our own people that way, good or bad. Not that I break the rules or anything."

"Students at Magnet don't even really break the rules that much, so I don't think some of city-wide school rules should apply to us."

Sarah McCormick, senior

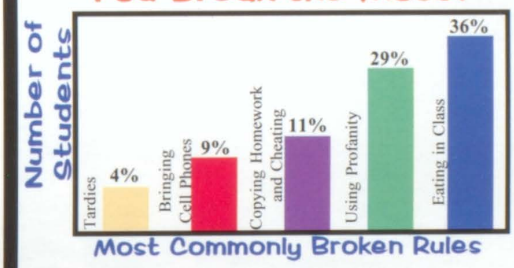

Emily Marshall, freshman

Which Rules Do You Break?

1. Broken Rulers? Kamal Fulani is in pain after Adam Mastodomenico broke a ruler over Kamal's head. Isn't that destruction of property? The school's and Kamal's, that is.
2. Stop right there, young man! No one gets past Mr. James. Too bad sophomore Dylan Nix had to learn that the hard way.
3. Watch your speed! Junior Stephanie Wendelin leaves the other guys in the dust. Try explaining that one to Mr. Gallant.
4. What's wrong with this picture? Notice anything funny about this freshman class? It seems that they haven't yet experienced the wrath of the administrators!
5. Wow! What a Collection! Junior Chris DeRosia conceals his rule breaking with his hair.
6. It's Not Obvious! Kristi Tutt and Dani Damlougi use their jackets and hair to hide the fact that they are talking (to each other) on their cell phones during school.
7. Dress Code Violation! Miss Blackberry (aka Dustin Willis) better be careful about those thin straps and bare midriff showing... that calls for an expulsion hearing!

Let's Do Lunch

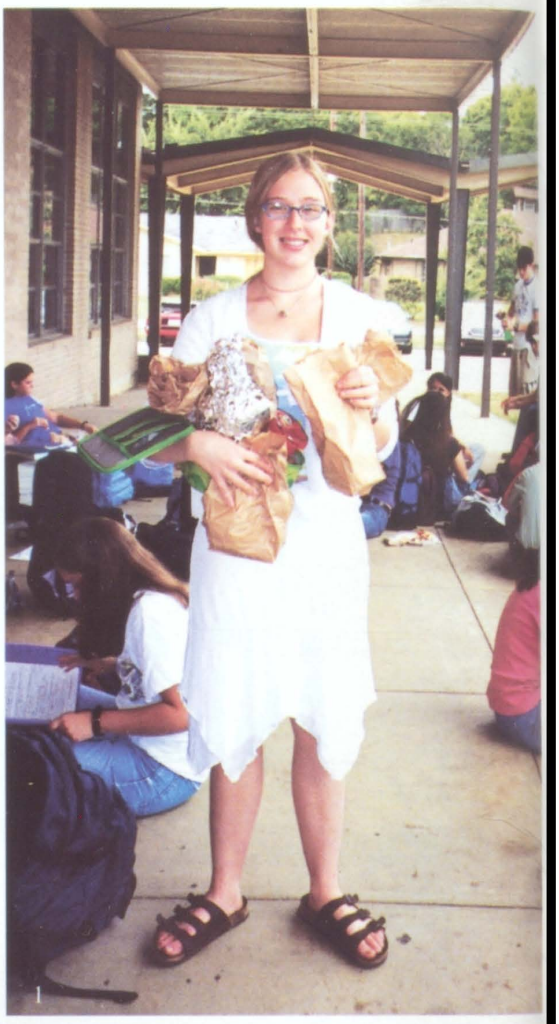

You are what you eat

What's your favorite time of day? It's lunch, isn't it? Lunch is the greatest time of the day. It has to be because you no longer get recess or nap time. You have time to eat a packed lunch or sample the delicacies from the cafeteria.

But to some people lunch is about more than just food. It is about relaxing between classes and getting a break in the day. Some people eat in a large group, while others choose to eat alone. It all depends on your fancy.

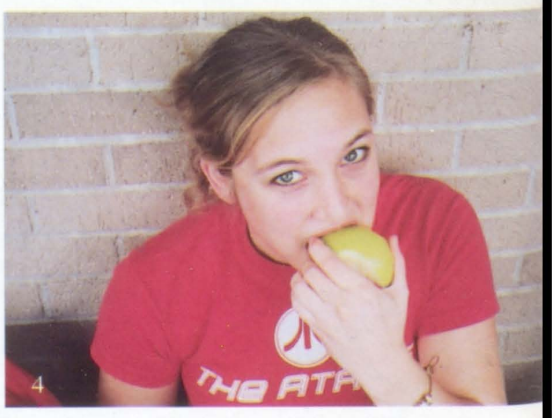

Hobbies are a lunch activity option as well. We captured everything on film from feeding the birds to cleaning up trash. The lunches included everything from donuts to 5-pound sandwiches. But everyone's favorite were the chicken nuggets. Everything was so interesting that we ran out of room. But from fun to food, we have a little of everything!

What more could you ask for? Yeah, yeah, we know . . . there's still no recess or nap time, but lunch is a great alternative, isn't it?

"I eat my lunch during 4th hour, so I save my lunch time to eat big, red, #4016 apples. You know, the kind that get all stuck in your teeth."

Valerie Kimbrough, senior

Cordara Newson, freshman

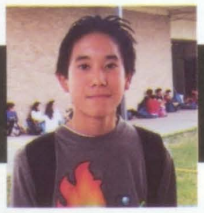

"Cheeseburgers are my favorite because they're filling and delicious."

"My meal is never complete without a kooshball."

Drew Bivona, junior

Minh Nguyen, freshman

"I think chicken nuggets are the most delectable meal. I would eat them for every meal, if my mom would let me."

1. Trash Lady. Sophomore Claire Kendig has her hands full cleaning up after everyone at lunch.
2. Brotherly Love. The Crichton Brothers, Sam and Stuart, spend three meals a day together, always with a smile.
3. A Donut For Lunch?! Nick Stamper, senior, doesn't care what he eats. He just picks up the first thing that's edible.
4. There's Nothing Like A Healthy Lunch. We think junior Erin Guillory would have said the same thing, that is if her mouth wasn't full.
5. Too Bad! Between bites these ladies laugh at all the kids yet to get their lunches.
6. The Birds! Freshmen Ben Williamson, Suneera Kompelli, and Destiney Cain agree with the opinion, "Why eat lunch alone, when you can share it with the birds?"
7. Attention! While Ballard Johnson chooses to spend his lunch sleeping, Raider John Cockburn will show him for not saluting a man in uniform.
8. That's Mine! Seniors Paxton Kennedy and Patrick Robertson wrestle over who gets the remaining half of Paxton's prestigious five-pound sandwich.

The Bathrooms

They are dirty, smelly, and some people will not even touch anything in them without first wrapping their whole bodies in an protective armor of toilet paper. "They" are the Magnet High School bathrooms (known to those of a Spanish background as los banos). Bueno! These sanctuaries dedicated to toiletbowl bliss can be found in every wing and in every corridor of the school; they are practically running the place.

Besides being used as a place to relieve oneself, bathrooms serve many other purposes. The girls can utilize the vast amount of mirror space provided in the parlor of the bathroom to primp for their math class--all gals need an extra coat of mascara or the matte finish of base for Pythagorean's Thereom. Students also think it's a great place to catch up on the latest gossip or hide from an upcoming test.

It's also a great place to chill out. Students can take a seat, relax, and read the writing on the stall walls.

"The D-wing bathroom is my favorite restroom because I feel pity on it; it is neglected by everyone else, except me."

"Bathrooms? What are those? I prefer trees thank you very much! Why else do you think I took off-campus welding?"

Charles Elder, senior

Meagan Davis, senior

"I always use the very first bathroom stall because they are somehow magically cleaner than the rest, or so I have heard from the other kids in the halls."

1. Hold on, Elizabeth Dickinson, did you wash those hands? Where is that zestfully clean smell?
2. Here it is, kids. The royal throne of our Magnet bathrooms. Don't forget to pay homage to it whenever you're in the neighborhood. Happy flushing!
3. Trevor and Jordan Johnson express their brotherly love by showing Ballard the ropes of Magnet.
4. DeDe Cole learns that the bathrooms aren't just the home of toilet paper and toilets.
5. "Is that wallpaper I see? It smells like fresh spring rain." Danny Lachman, Stephen Chandler, and Chris Bryan cry as they traipse into the girl's bathroom. Watch it, here comes Mr. James!
6. Showing off our famous knack for individuality, teachers pride themselves in their zany hall passes.
7. Watch out for Kemerton Hargrove because he's man enough to take on any nasty bathroom.
8. Has Lilah Cady found the door to another dimension in the PAC bathroom? Cause those fancy threads sure aren't something that she'd usually wear.

Activity Period

"Activity Period is for research in the library, make up work, or club meetings. It is not a high school recess," says Mr.Allen, the mascot of Activity Period.

Every Wednesday between 2nd and 3rd hours, Mr. Allen can be found patrolling the area between the gym and C-wing, checking students' hall passes. Those unfortunate students who venture into the halls without the required hall pass find themselves occupying the concrete benches--rain or shine, hot or cold.

Activity Period gives students time to do the activities that they are not able to do during or after school. Over fifty different clubs are offered at Magnet, and Activity Period gives the clubs time to meet. Students are also able to make up tests or hang out with friends.

Activity Period offers students the option of becoming active and participating in clubs, or just relaxing and taking a break from schoolwork. Whichever students prefer, Activity Period has something to offer every student - a long anticipated break from the rigors of the classroom.

"Well, I used to hang out with 'the group' in Mr. Joshua's room, but then he kicked us out so now we go next door to Mr. Haskew's room."

"My main occupation during Activity Period is to ponder life and the existence of human beings on this planet."

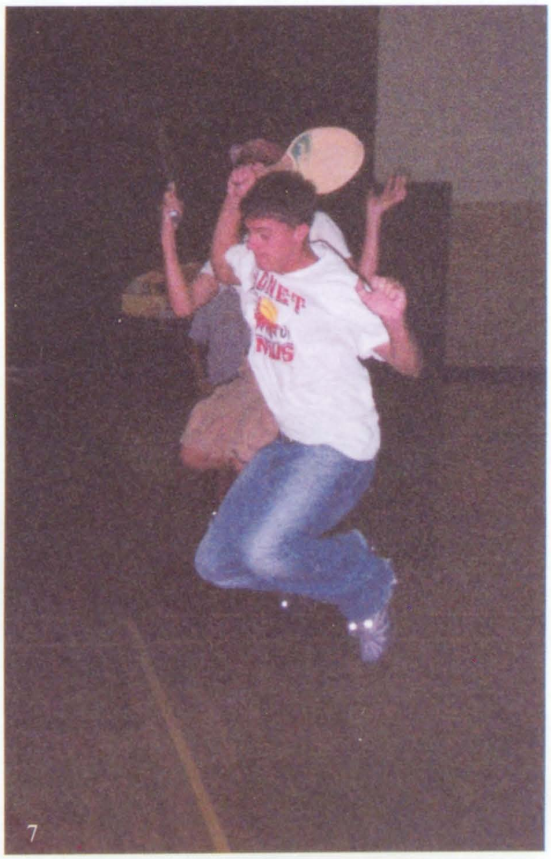

Travis Northcutt, junior

Tyrrell Woolbert, senior

"I either go to the Drama Club where we have cake everyday or the CMTV room where I either mess around, make mixes (I am a mix-making machine), or work on CMTV."

1. Sophomore Vikram Agarwal is overwhelmed with joy after checking his opponent's king in the Chess Club.
2. Sophomore Luke Lee views his slide-show on the camera before editing it in the Picasso Digital Arts Club.
3. Junior Drew Bivona gets sidelined by Mr. Allen before going to the gym. Without a yellow pass, it's to the bench.
4. "During Activity Period I hide from Mr. Allen and play stickman battlegame," says sophomore Trina Edwards. Ryan Strickland and Danny Lachman are no match for Trina's domination in the game.
5. Freshmen William Bankard and Chris Doyal practice waving the flag in sync for ROTC.
6. Junior Tarik King begs for assistance on his math test during activity period.
7. Senior Ben Foster and his partner, Chad Santos, jump in delight as they scored the winning point in the Annual Pickle Ball Tournament held in the gym during Activity Period.
8. Alex Post, Jenni McGee, Maggie Boykin, Christina Fartaczek (president), Matthew Schurman, Sherry Liu, Casey Russell, and Mr. Thomas are members of the Sign Language Club. They will sign any word you ask them to - including yearbook.

Vive l'expression!

Creativity in School

Magnet has a reputation for above-par education, but there's a lot more to this school than its students' academic abilities. Between socializing and studying, pupils find time to express themselves creatively. Magnet provides many structured outlets such as art and music classes, but many students exhibit their creativity in more individualistic ways such as dressing and doodling.

In the teenage years, people tend to explore new ways of differentiating themselves from others and expressing their feelings. For some students, the structured classes at CMHS don't provide the arena they need to exhibit their complete individuality. These students go beyond everyday creativity and show their personality by doing the unexpected.

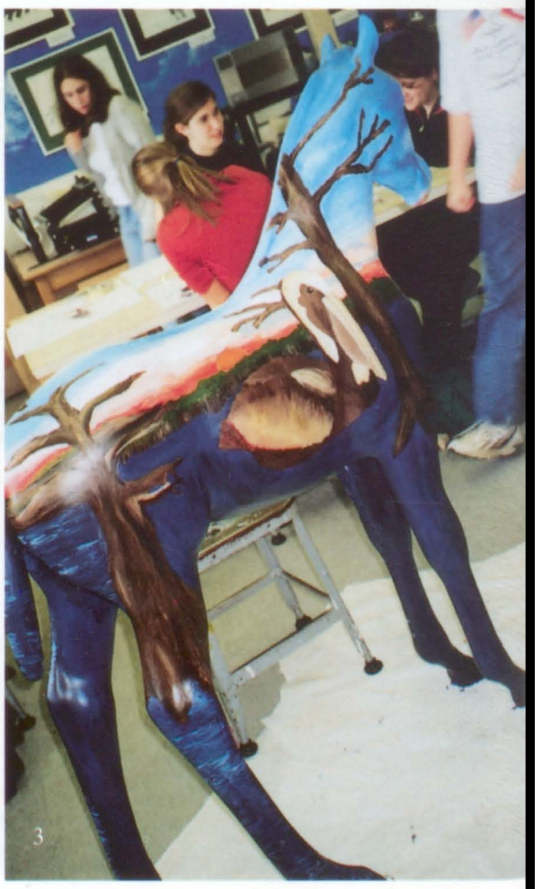

Magnet is known for students that embrace who they are and just love to be themselves.

"Aesthetic Escape"

Sometimes depressed,
And others confused,
When blinded by anger,
Shrouded by hate,
When something's been lost,
Or isn't quite there,
Emotionless burdened,
Borrowed,
And scared,
meditation through music,
Relaxation through movement,
Rhythm explores,
The movement my muse.

By: Jason Campisi
sophomore

"In order to set myself apart from the crowd, I like to style my hair creatively. What can I say? I like to keep people talking."

Lindsey Cortese, junior

Marcia Forrest, senior

"I try to be a nonconformist because I think it's better to be a leader than a follower. That sets me apart from everyone else."

"All my creativity goes towards making shirts, bracelets, and things for my room. "

Angelica Reimonenq, freshman

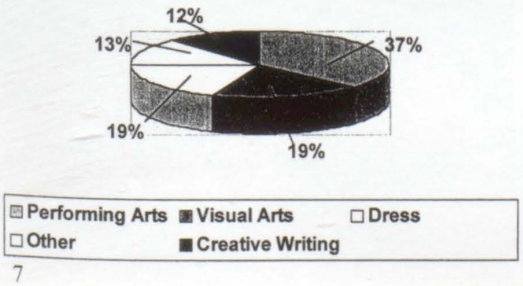

Alicia Forrest, sophomore

"I set myself apart my doing what others wouldn't expect-originality. For instance, I don't wear Birkenstocks because everyone else does. If I don't like it, I won't wear it."

How You Express Yourself

1. In Japan, rock gardens are used as a form of meditation, but at Magnet, they decorate the sidewalk and give students an extra grade in Mr. Trudeau's class.
2. In Mr. Allen's class, Brandi Cumberland and Sarah Whitaker express themselves by decorating their jeans. I hope that paint is washable, girls!
3. Our art department was selected by the City of Shreveport to design and create one of five horses to be autioned off to businesses for placement in the city. Magnet's Horse of a Different Color sold for the most!
4. Josh Blewitt passes the time in clase de español by doodling artistically.
5. Sophomore Jason Campisi's poem, "Aesthetic Escape," is a product of his creativity and Mrs. Morehead's English class.
6. Jimmy Ong carves his friend's sneaker out of clay. Hope it doesn't smell like the original!
7. Magnet students speak out about how they express themselves.

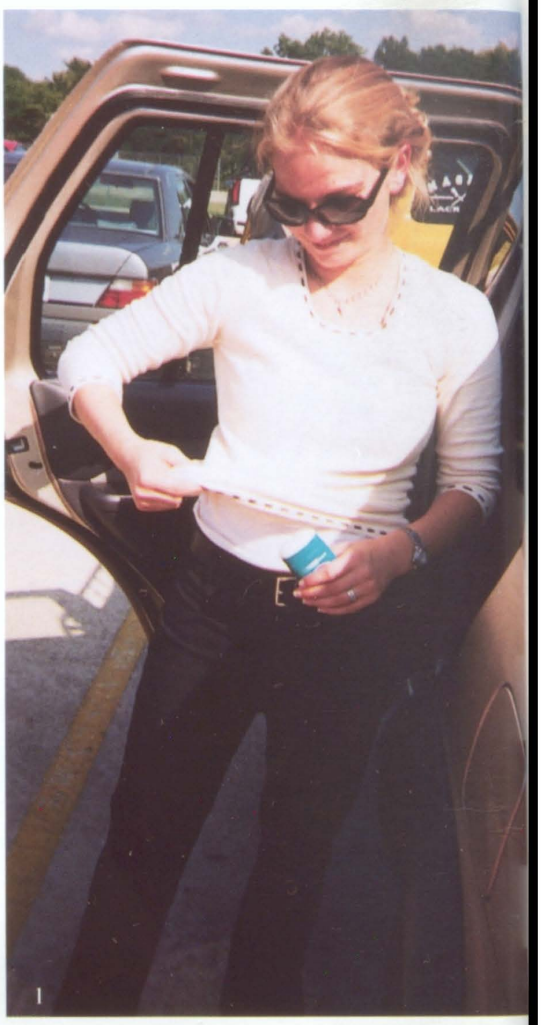

Whole Lot of Fun

Magnet's Parking Lot

You've all heard, "it's a jungle out there," and it is--an asphalt jungle that is! There are so many important aspects that make up our parking lot jungle. We have two fine individuals--Mr. James and Mrs. Singletary--who observe and protect our parking lot, those fabulous speed-bumps, the eye-catching signs that scream at law-abiding citizens, and what we love most: our own personal vehicles.

Those reliable automobiles get us to school and more importantly, home from school. Cars at Magnet range from Thanmaya Reddy's BMW to Jeffrey Planchard's VW.

Aside from cars, events in the parking lot cannot go unnoticed. Boys change right there for their after-school lacrosse practices and a daily 100-meter dash takes place for the latecomers. And there's always the occasional "fender bender" that the offender pretends he didn't notice happening. In closing, keep your parking passes safe and keys safer. Honk, Honk!!!

"I love our parking lot! Walking up to school every morning and seeing the school makes me proud to be a Mustang."

Henry Hilario, junior

Zac Zeller, junior

"All I have to say about the parking lot is that I always park in the same place, between the two columns. But someone's been parking there and I will find out who."

"Magnet's parking lot will always hold a special place in my heart. I enjoy the deep conversations with random people in the morning."

Doug Mata, senior

Elyse Kent, junior

"I hate the parking lot because there are not enough parking spaces and someone all ways blocks me in. It takes too long to get out!"

1. Senior Natalie Timpa performs her morning rituals right there in the parking lot.
2. Is that a speed-bump or Andrew Patton? Junior Taylor Russell slams on his brakes to obey that 5 m.p.h. rule only to find Andrew "Roadkill" Patton.
3. Senior Emily Comegys uses the parking lot as a prime "lying out" spot.
4. Coincidence? I think not. These two parking-lot goers show Magnet spirit.
5. Emily Wilkerson and Taylor Robertson walk to their cars after school...Wow, I wonder whose cool Suburban that is?
6. Sophomore Trevor Johnson tries to convince brother Ballard to ride shotgun on the way home, but that crazy freshman prefers the roof.
7. We all put on our pants one leg at a time...even Senior Chad Santos.
8. 5 m.p.h. There it is! And you told Mr. James you never saw it.

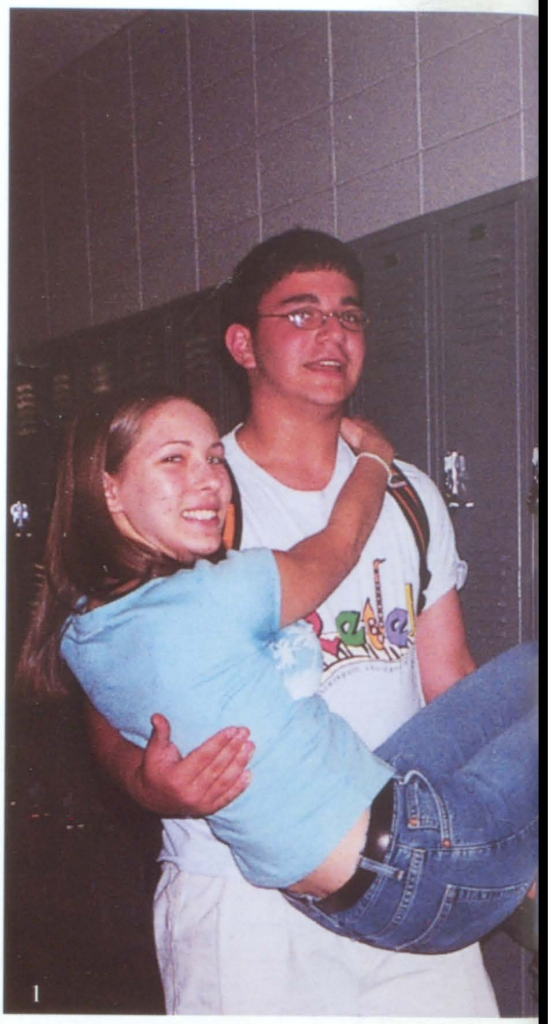

Between the Bells

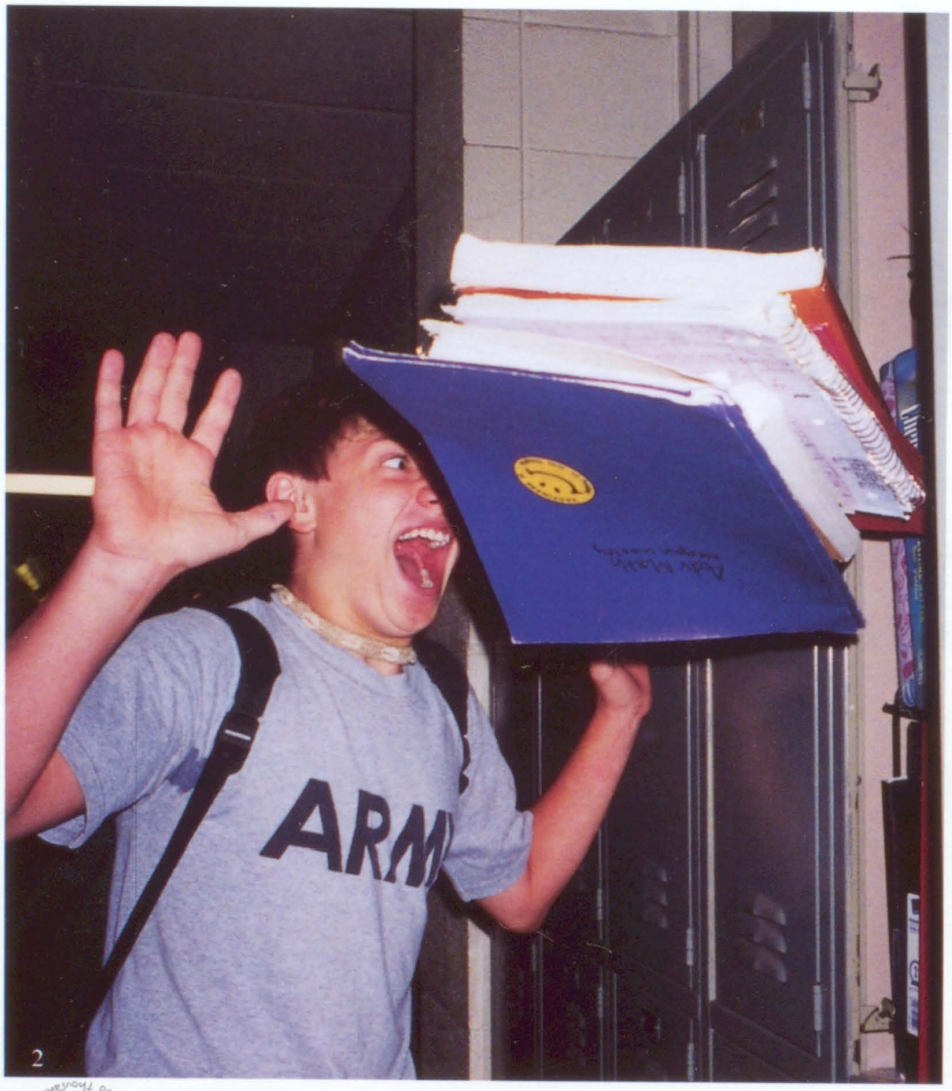

The Sacred Five Minutes

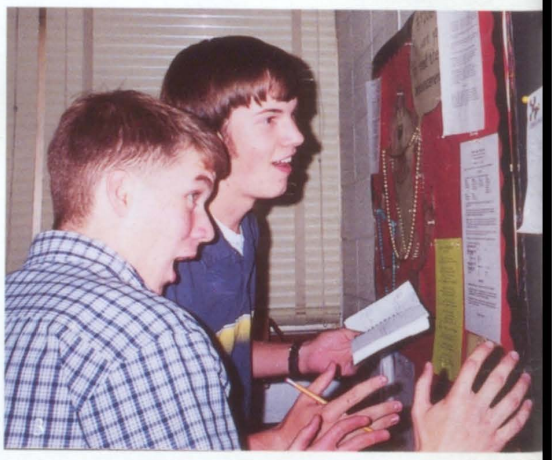

What do you do during the five minutes between the bells? That was our mission -- to capture all those Kodak moments that happen during the 300 seconds students have to get to class. Not that much time if you think about it.

But at Magnet we are unique in oh-so-many-ways. So it was not that amazing that we were able to find people doing unusual things between the two bells. As a nice alternative to walking, some people dance to class while others are carried by their boyfriends. All the gals get caught up on the latest gossip that has happened in the last hour, while the guys talk about all that boy stuff. And, of course, no one is really in a hurry to get to class until the LAST minute!

The five minutes between the bells are much more interesting that most people think. So, the next time that you are walking to class take a look around, and you, too, will see the crazy things that we found Magnet students are capable of during five minutes.

"During the sacred five minutes of freedom, I like to mingle with my lovely friends that I meet in the hall."

Justine Ho, freshman

DeDe Cole, sophomore

"I always go to the bathroom but spend most of my time looking for toliet paper. Have you seen any?"

"I rush to get to class so that I can finish all the homework I have left over from the night before."

Phillip Carthern, freshman

Laura Benscoter, junior

"If you ever see me in the halls I will always be studying. I am the Cramming Queen!!"

1. People always think it is sweet when they see a boy carrying a girl's books to class, but junior Alan Posner thinks it is even sweeter to carry his girl, sophomore Laura Angle, to class.
2. Taylor Rust, freshman, is startled as his books attack him.
3. Juniors James Reed and Jonathan Luke are fearful of the massive amounts of work that lie ahead for them in chemistry class.
4. Junior Stephanie Wendlin rushes to the office to check out.
5. Sophomores Becca Helms and Freshman Paula Smolaga run to class before the tardy bell rings.
6. Junior Yoni Platt primps in the bathroom before heading off to class.
7. Junior Ryan Robinson looks for food in between classes so he will have something to each for lunch. Luckily, senior Ashley Taylor is throwing away the leftovers from breakfast.
8. Why walk to class when you can waltz to class? Seniors Patrice Henderson and Westly Lafitte demostrate this on the way to fifth hour.

It's Crunch Time

Time Management

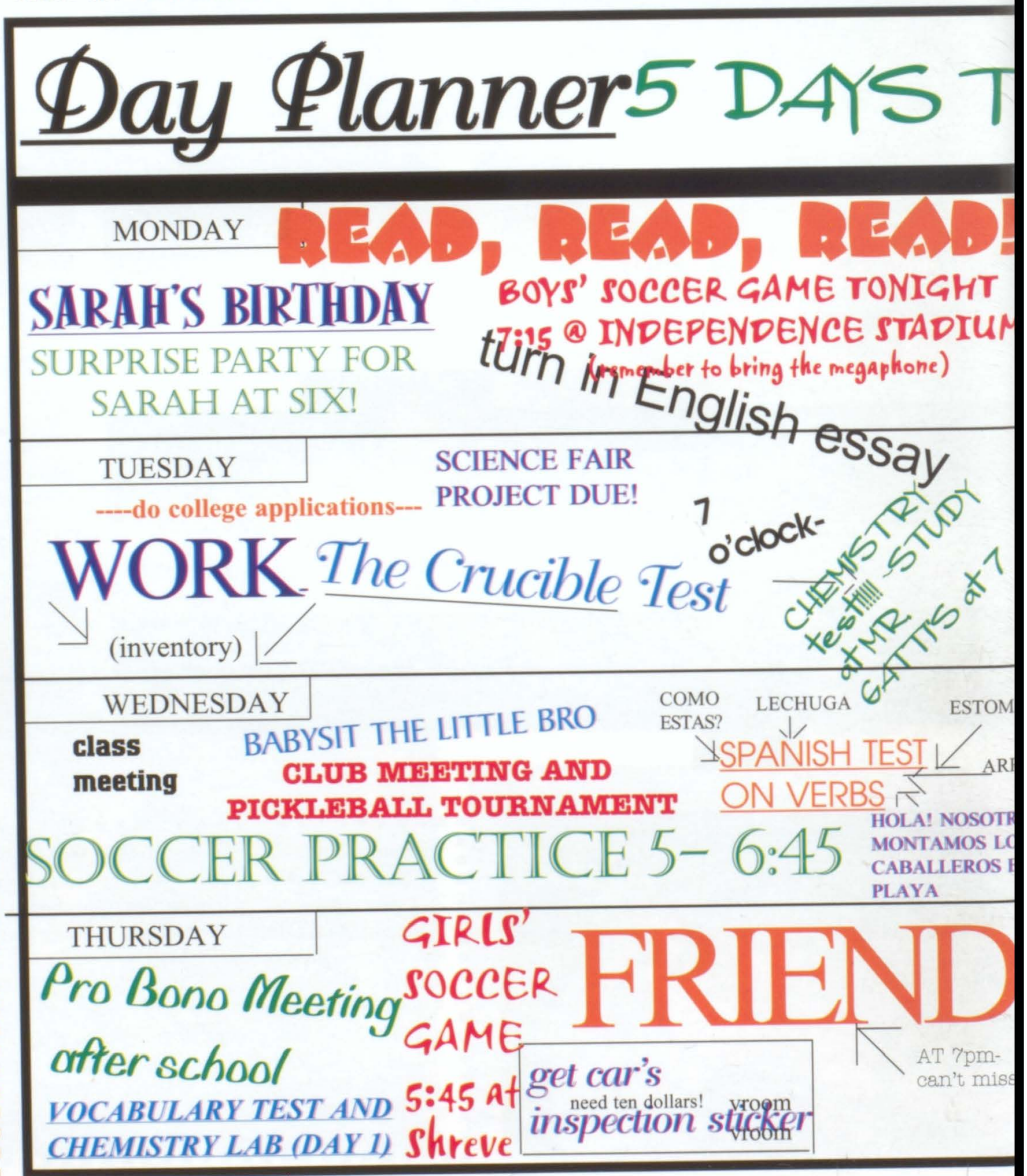

Have you ever sat down and said to yourself, "There just aren't enough hours in a day to fit in everything that I want to do!"? I mean, there are oh-so-many things for high schoolers to do--from going to school and working at various jobs, to spending time with families and practicing sports. Not to mention the neverending supply of homework and club gatherings that take place in the course of just one day.

The list just goes on and on, and, well, you get the picture. There are many creative ways that our fellow students have conjured up to aid them in their quest for the ultimate time management skills. There are the usual day planners, calenders, and random lists of "stuff to do." Of course, there are the select few that we have sought out who utilize their quirky intellect to make their own special ways to manage their time. These are their stories.

1. Senior Andrew Marsalla shows off his "things-to-do" list for the week. Don't forget to wash the dishes and feed the hog!
2. Juniors Holly Robbinson and Stacy Palczynski spend their lunch reviewing for classes.
3. Junior Henry Hillario and sophomores John Allen Thomas, Martin Davis, freshman Ballard Johnson, and Sarah Gallagher like to play Captain Planet in their free time. "With our powers combined..."

"I print out a gigantic calender for every month, and I post it on the wall in my bedroom; it is as big as my pet cow, Erlenmeyer."

Ryan Haight, freshman

Alston Walker, sophomore

"I do not utilize my time management skills to their full potential because I like to use my lady skills instead. Hey there, baby!"

"Post Its! There are Post Its all over the place: in my house, in my car, even on myself sometimes. The worst is when they get stuck in my hair!"

Top 10 Advantages to Being a Senior

1. All you REALLY have to take is English IV, and don't let anyone tell you differently.
2. A lot of class meetings in the PAC and a lot of quality time with Mr. Allen. (We'll miss you!)
3. Pottery, a class of champions
4. Mrs. Levine and UNC trivia
5. Wearing whatever you want to school, and really not caring about it
6. Mr. Jinks and his undying love for Beowulf
7. Senior parking...wait, we don't have that!
8. COLLEGE, enough said.
9. We get out May 7th.
10. They finally know you in the office...and your mother.

Flashback: Friends Forever

Becca Helms

When we were younger, we signed up to play basketball together. At our first game all we did was stand by each other and talk the whole time. We got lectured by our parents and the coach, and after that we had to focus on the game and not gossip!!

How to Survive Sophomore Year

Word of the Wise:

You can get your full 8 hours of sleep during school

Don't slack off!

FOR THE LOVE OF GOD, DO NOT STAND ON THE THIRD TILE FROM THE LEFT AT THE SECOND ENTRANCE OF A-WING, FOR HORRIBLE THINGS WILL BEFALL YOU.

Watch out for the leaky water fountain

Don't do homework!

Always put off today what you can do tomorrow!

Stay to the right of the hall

DON'T RUN ON THE GRAVEL!

Beware of the evil upperclassmen, they tend to be mean!

freshman are entitled to be picked on!

CLIFFS NOTES IS A GOD!!

~Teachers really do have hearts~

Appreciate cafeteria food while you have it!

Be nice to everyone, you never know when you might need their help later on!

TAKE MAJOR ADVANTANGE OF THE WEEKENDS!

Go to the guys soccer games!

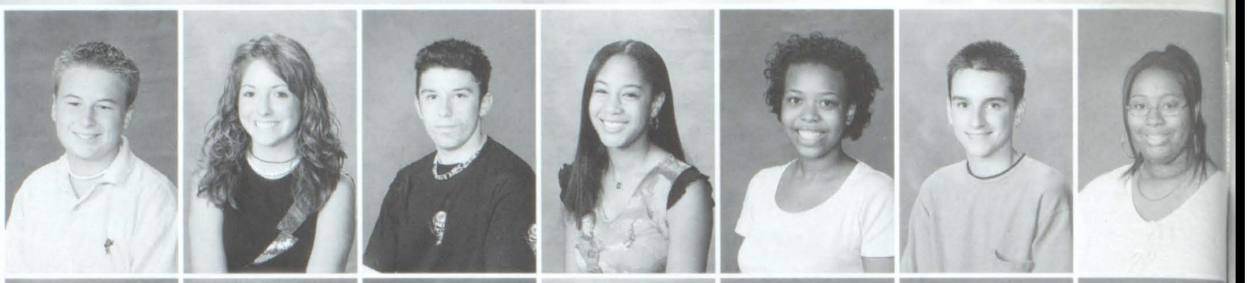

Alienate yourself from society as a whole, and focus on school

ARE YOU A PROCRASTINATOR OR AN OVER-ACHIEVER?

I'm definitely an overachiever. I started studying for midterms way ahead of time.

I've been a procrastinator since elementary school.

I'm in the middle; it depends on what it is.

I'm a procrastinator. I don't like to do school work, and I never get it done.

Back in the Day

Hey Good- Lookin, What Ya Got Cookin'?... Mrs. Sheryl Thomas is at the young age of eighteen. She was a quiet "A" student who found her love for Sci-Fi in high school. "I didn't have much fun in high school; I was always concerned about my grades."

We see these people every day...but have you ever wondered what they were like when they were your age?

Grease Lightnin' This is Mr. Thomas when he was only 21. "I was voted most changed at my 20th high school reunion. I was a good kid, very quiet student, and didn't give my parents any trouble," he says.

"I was a nerd in high school. Straight A's and everything. I didn't date until senior year... no one wanted to date the valedictorian. "

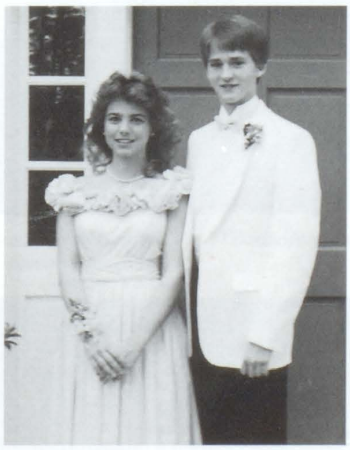

- Mrs. Waguespack

"My friends and I had a folk rock band called 'Rogue.' We played music by Bob Dylan and Rolling Stones when they were still new. We even had the black turtlenecks and long bangs. "

- Mr. Trudeau

"I was rowdy and outgoing at that age and always found someone to talk to."

- Mrs. Watkins

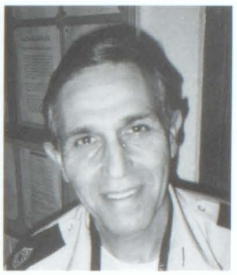

I Got You Babe. Mrs. Soileau is all dressed up for Junior Prom at Shreve. She was vice president of her class that year and was in charge of the whole dance. Mrs. Soileau was also on yearbook staff and National Honor Society member, and she loved hanging out with her friends--anywhere parents weren't.

Get Ready. Two star JV players, Stephen Goebel and Leigh Anna Dwyer, prepare for a match.
Support. Cedar Creek High students won the Tal Atkins tournament hosted by CMHS to honor a former Magnet quiz bowl member who died of cancer.
Big Fans. Former captains Clay Critcher (Yale) and Seth Boutin (Baylor) return to support the team in the final round of the Cajun Quiz Bowl.

Confessions of a Quiz Bowl Mind

1. 2000 questions are a lot of questions to hear
2. It's hard to put on fake smiles when we've been cheated
3. 4:30a.m. study sessions
4. Overworked brains are something we pride ourselves on
5. We have no time for sleep

Ambitions of the Brainy Club

1. To win (that's a given)
2. For A and B teams to win first and second
3. To have more teams to compete next year
4. To increase our knowledge
5. To impress people with our intelligence

DEBATE

Members

The Fight for Absolute Power. Seniors Jonathan Zweig and Jason Larey were the subject of the 500 flyers distributed throughout the school. The flyers noted that Jonathan and Jason beat the #1 ranked team in the nation at a tournament at UT. They are now ranked in the top 5 teams in the country. Good job, guys!

Copy Cat. Junior James Howard is so busy with debate work that he had to XEROX a picture of his head so his mom would remember what he looked like.

Pumpin' Some Paper. Muscle-man Matthew Wallace, freshman, is loaded down by his heavy debate paraphernalia.

Huggin' a Tub. Sophomore Stephen Chandler grips his multi-purpose tub which carries anything from expandos to small debaters.

When Debaters Attack: Christy Bennett viciously staples the head of poor, unassuming Wheeler Bryson.

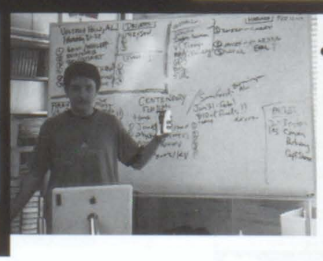

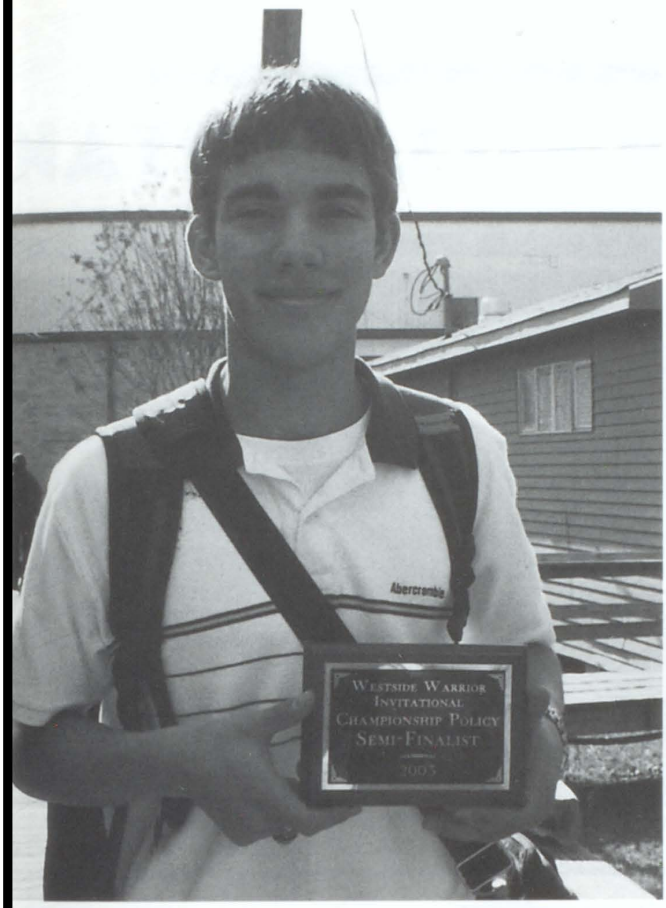

"It's a way to be competive without having to be athletic. -- Kasi Hickerson, 11th

"For a long time, debate was about collecting trophies. -- Ben Patterson, 12th

Carl Rodriguez appears in front of the esteemed dry-erase board which records all debate activities.

And the Winner Is . . . Senior Patrick Larue displays his Semi-Finalist plaque that Pradeep Pramanik and he won at the Westide Warrior Invitational in Omaha, NE.

Dangers of Debate. Senior Ben Patterson and sophomore Stephen Chandler protect sophomore Wheeler Bryson from the wrath of the attacking papercuts.

Lounqin' Around. Freshman Sam Crichton is lethargic after his hard weekend of debating so he finds a comfortable place to sit while waiting for his plane in the Houston airport.

Confessions of a Debate Mind:

1. Debate is not a sport; it is life.
2. A debater's worst fear is papercuts.
3. A student interested in taking debate must master the continuous pen-flip.
4. Debaters only come to school two Fridays a year.
5. Debaters secretly enjoy amassing a large amount of tubs and expandos.

Ambitions of the "I'm always right" Club:

1. To research topics, cut cards, and learn "Theory."
2. To improve speaking skills.
3. To make people cry.
4. To stay informed on current issues.
5. To present a developed arguement in a minimal amount of time.

Pradeep Pramanik may be able to solve world problems, but he has trouble with simple puzzles.

QUOTE

Debate reminds me of kindergarten because I get to sleep everyday. The little people don't, but the big ones do.
-- Wally Stuka, 11th

Stafford Johnson, freshman, is hard at work highlighting confidental debate reports.

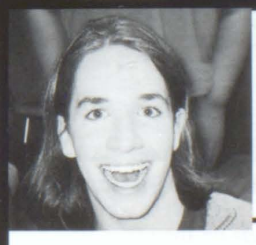

"I like debating because I like making people feel stupid–since I have mad skills.
-- Broderick Morgan, 11th"

Junior Michael Ameen is so argumentative that he even argues about the roundness of the world.

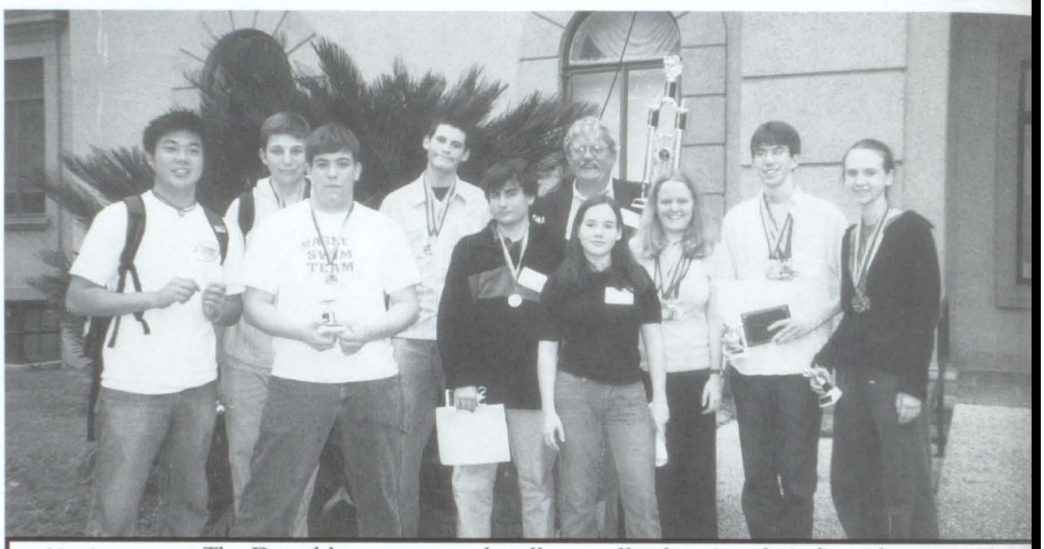

"Debate has taught me that it is sometimes better not to argue.
-- Stuart Crichton, 10th"

The Thrill of Victory... has Brad Hargreaves, Mr. Gayer, and Leighanna Dwyer are all worn out, so they rest under the shade of a tree.

Some food for thought... Sophomore Leighanna Dwyer and junior Frances Kelley chow down on some yummy Mexican food before their next competition.

It's rainin' men! Jeffrey Planchard, Staunton Sample, Bryon Larson, and Zach May show the sensitive side of our Decathlon team.

Four letter word for Decathlon... Brad Hargreaves and Mr. Gayer work on a crossword puzzle on the plane ride to Pennsylvania.

Sophomores Emily Planchard and Leighanna Dwyer research for their speeches on the internet...or are they just surfing the web...?

"The Decathlon team is brilliant. We don't need to study.
- Jeff Planchard, 12th"

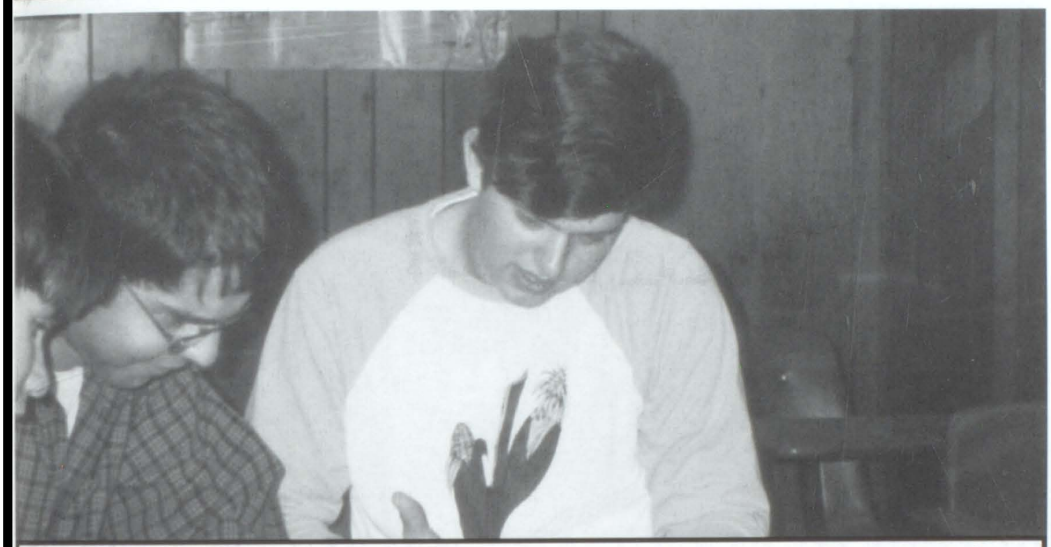

"Decathlon is like freshly made pudding-warm and soft. It makes you feel fuzzy inside.
-Leighanna Dwyer, 10th

Zach, Bryon, and Leighanna discuss the upcoming Super Quiz on their way to competition. Peace to you too, Bryon!

YEARBOOK

Bending Over Backwards: Sarah Gross proves that being a dancer really can help out in yearbook.

The Force Unites: The power that makes the yearbook a reality.

Power in Numbers: Courtney Ritter, Megan Wooley, Laura Williamson, and Adrienne Gedeon prove their strength by doing the 4-man pushup.

Share the love: Sophomore Nanci Velez and Junior Leigh Pourciau show how close you can get after being on staff together.

Ay Matey: Juniors Laura Williamson and Catherine Sale and Senior Blair Knicely dress like their ancestors to defend their fellow pirates.

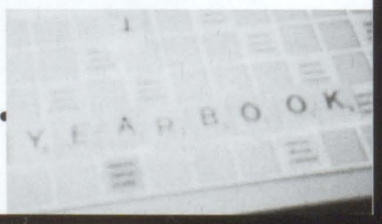

Money, Money, Money: Senior Li Burwell works diligently on our bi money maker: advertisements.

What Now? Two hard-working staff members, Megan Wooley and Courtney Ritter, go insane over pages lost and those yet to be designed.

Ah ha!
Yearbookers enjoy being on staff so much, they used their favorite word to make 9 points.

"I love yearbook; it's my baby.
-Blair Knicely, 12th

"When you're the only guy in yearbook, you learn a lot you don't need to know.
Jonathan Younger, 11th

No Me: the Ve party f Sarah (she an Jonath share meatle chili.

The Leaning Tower of Yearbook: Sophomores Nanci Velez, Adrienne Gedeon, and Sarah Rubben, along with Juniors Sarah Delphin, Jonathan Younger, and Suzanne Dale demostrate the teamwork involved in yearbook.

What's the Prize, Vanna? Junior Leigh Pourciau did what yearbookers are best at, designing a photo montage. . . on the wall.

To Eat or not to Eat: Sarah Delphin is still confused about what's good for lunch--yearbook croppers or real food.

Confessions of a Yearbook Mind:

1. We don't make up quotes; we use creative inspiration to alter them.
2. If you don't let us take your picture, we will find you.
3. Nothing is greater than capturing memories in photos.
4. Don't like my layout? Design it yourself.
5. Man, how do you make this computer come on?

Ambitionsof the Annual Book Making Club:

1. See how many embarrassing pictures you can take.
2. Do your best to keep the yearbook from being "cute."
3. Crop pictures as fast as you can to meet deadline.
4. Try and figure out how to turn on the computer.
5. What, it's Friday? Let's have a party!

Singin' in the Rain: Junior Catherine Sale knows exactly how to spend her free time after turning in all of her yearbook work.

This season, the boys had an amazing year due to their talented soccer stars and their success in overcoming obstacles. Just a few of their hardships included rebuilding the team after losing seniors, using a new lineup, and having an immensely long list of injuries. Jordan Johnson, Ben Foster, and Chad Santos were the captains. They participated in two tournaments and achieved victories against rival schools like Southwood and Byrd. These tough guys made it all the way to play-offs, but their shot at the quarter's was hindered in overtime when Mandeville scored.

Can't Touch This! Henry Hilario lays down some MC Hammer moves as he completes a perfect header right out of the reach of the Byrd defense and to the feet of #19.

Mr. Sassy Pants! One of the team's most valuable players, Ben Foster, dribbles the ball to make an offensive play.

Boys' Varsity Soccer

Uno Dos Tres- Magnet! These macho men huddle up together to give themselves an adrenaline boost before the "big" game starts. There is no match for these yelling fools and their fancy footwork!

Boys

First Round vs. Mandeville 0-7 OT

Girls

First Round Bye
District vs. Baton Rouge 2-0 OT
Quarterfinals vs. St. Amant 7-0
Semifinals vs. Dominican 0-3

Playoffs, this is what soccer players live for, right? The anticipation mounts throughtout the season with one goal in mind: a state championship. All of the hard work, dedication, and perserverance in the end will, hopefully, pay off. Everyone works hard playing for the other ten players on the field, playing for the seniors, playing for their coach, playing for themselves, playing for bragging rights, and playing most of all for that state championship ring.

C-M-H! In honoring our school, the girls team's pregame ritual included spelling "CMH" with their bodies. Talk about bonding.

Senior ladies! Jessica Demello, Tracie Ferguson, Lisa Fox, and Sarah McLean read the senior poem at the soccer banquet. We love our seniors.

Boys' and Girls'

Senior men! Ben Foster, Jordan Johnson, Chad Santos, Jonathan Eaton, and Kieran Ballantine read their poem at the banquet to their beloved team. These guys will surely be missed next year.

Girls' Soccer

Rising to the top. Suzanne Dale, Julia Fell, Stacy Palczynski, Brenna Bussart, Jacquelyn Broussard, Jessica Demello, Adrienne Gedeon, Julia Vaughan, Katy Askew, Elizabeth Dickinson, Monica Gherig, Laura Williamson, Kelly Walsh, Tracie Ferguson, Beverly Chauffe, Julie Rew, Sarah McLean, Lisa Fox, and Karen Wissing spend some family time bonding at Julie's Mansfield house.

We know Joe! Tracie Ferguson, Beverly Chauffe, and Lisa Fox celebrate being members of such a wonderful team while at Joe's Crab Shack in Arlington.

And the winner is... After the ladies won the Gator Cup for yet another year, they gathered around their trophy. The defeat of Shreve 4-0 in the final was the cause of those huge smiles.

Who is that hot Indian manager? All other girls' teams in Shreveport beware. The best managers around are Andrew Abreo, Earl Hwang, Jordan Johnson, Douglas Mata, and Hunter White. They are always there with some water and good ole CJ.

Did somebody say food again? On the way back from the Arlington tournament, the girls stopped to pig out on tacos and pizza.

To the team- A field of buttercups...

#1 Sarah McLean - Enough doctors' excuses to last you through college
#2 Julie Rew - Aggression management classes for those hard tackles
#3 Adrienne Gedeon- A diet plan to get rid of the fat in your face (chunk)
#4 Lisa Fox- Some of your mama's cookies to take with you to college
#5 Beverly Chauffe- Another good season so you can be "satisfied"
#6 Julia Fell- More Mansfield time so you can perfect your dancing skills
#7 Elizabeth Dickinson- A push-up bra to help you score
#8 Jessica Demello- Prosthetic legs to eliminate all those injuries
#9 Brenna Brussart- An eye patch to hide those unsightly battle wounds
#10 Julia Vaughan- More bus rides getting close to managers
#11 Tracie Ferguson- Money to buy more boy underwear
#12 Stacy Palczynski- An orange Gap sweatshirt to match with your dad
#13 Suzanne Dale- Silly things to occur to inspire your pre-game analogies
#14 Kelly Walsh- The ability to not take out teammates at practice
#15 Karen Wissing- Some time with "Slick" (wink wink)
#17 Monica Gherig- More bubble baths with some spooning
#18 Laura Williamson- A dream boat so you can be with both Paul and Blue
#19 Katy Askew- A cheetah to go on early morning jogs with #20 Jacquelyn Broussard- Beauty school to apply makeup on someone

You are what you eat. One of the advantages of being on the girls' soccer team is getting to eat pizza in the counselor's office.

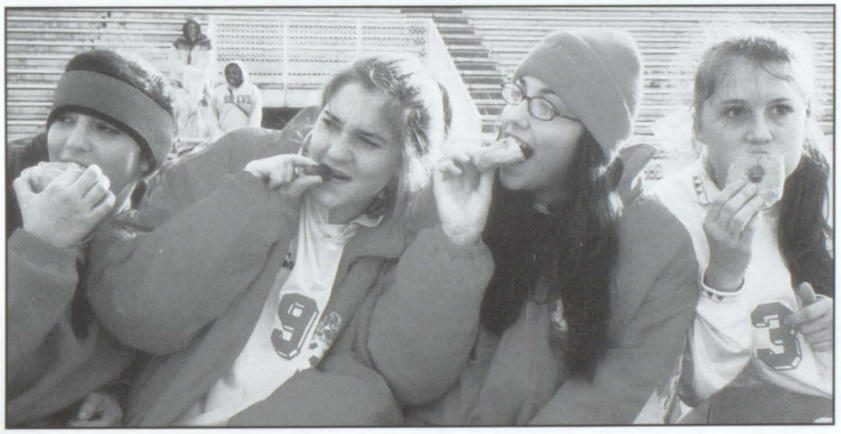

Soccer girls at Sonic. The soccer ladies spend some quality time at Sonic one Saturday night. Gotta love those chili dogs and tator tots! It's where all the cool kids hang out, yo!

MMM, DONUTS! Eating the sausages and donuts provided by Hunter White and Andrew Abreo, Monica Gherig, Brenna Bussart, Jaquelyn Broussard, and Adrienne Gedeon watch with anticipation.

Orta! To our wonderful coach, stop looking like your dog just got ran over.!

Who doesn't love Mansfield? Laura Williamson, Tracie Fergsuson, Stacy Palczynski, Suzanne Dale, Julie Rew, and Beverly Chauffe enjoy dressing up in the old clothes found in Julie's closet and running down to bother the sleeping girls.

Soccer (girls): n. the best around

Byrd	3-0
Loyola	4-0
Shreve	4-0
Huntington	10-0
Parkway	0-1
Airline	5-0
Southwood	3-0

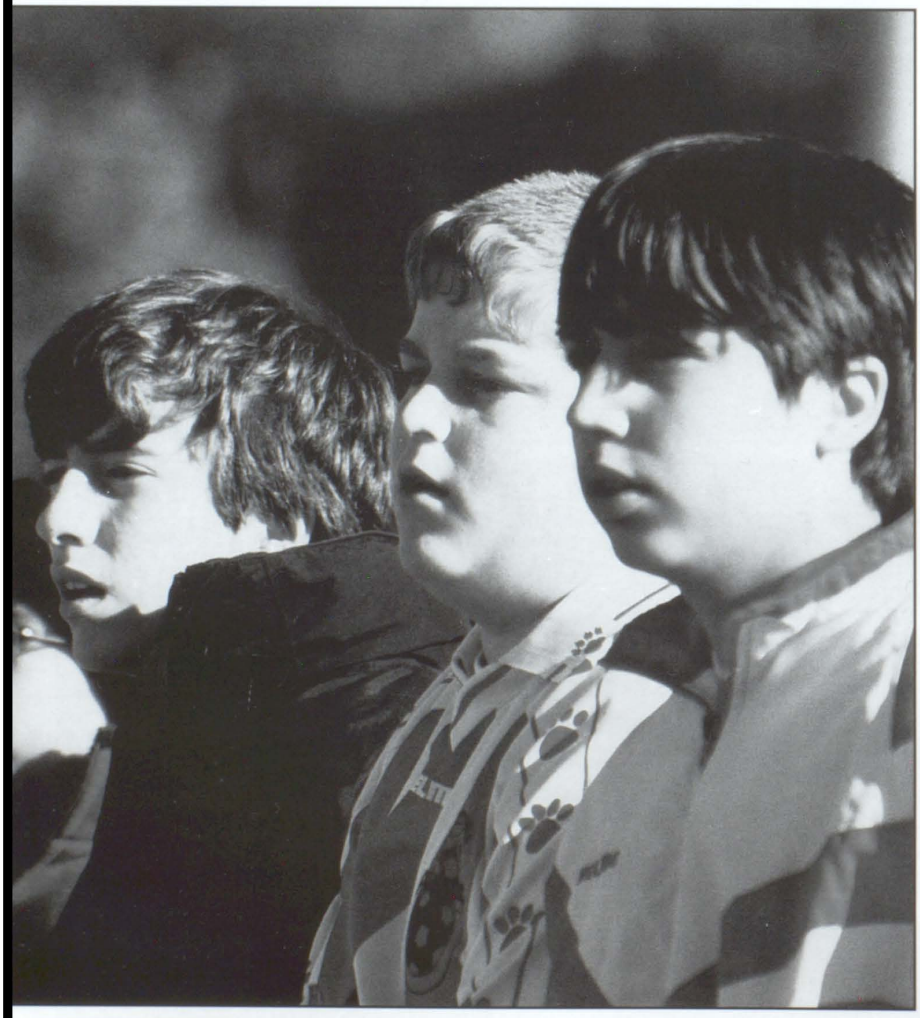

The Junior Varsity boys had an exciting school year full of endless victories against tough teams. They participated in three different tournaments this season. One tournarment was the Parkway Tournament where they won first place. Their two head honchos, A.K.A. captains, were Walter Elder and Matthew Ballard Johnson.

Go Magnet! The Junior Varsity is getting pumped up before their game against Southwood. Good luck, guys.

Heading Up the Competition. Adam Mastrodomenico makes a header and takes out some Byrd players at the same time.

Lost In Wonder! Wesley Rogers, Matthew Marak, Austin Rogers, and Stephen Kellogg are in awe of the ongoing game. They still can't believe just how good their team is--no one touch them!

Doing the Can Can- Too bad we all can't move like that! Morgan Hays wants to show off how his yoga classes have paid off.

"It is a hidden secret, but Junior Varsity is actually the real Varsity." - Ben Williamson, freshman

"Soccer has been a fun and exciting season. I can't wait 'till next year." -Patrick Fess, junior

Give Me a Break - The Junior Varsity boys are taking a breather and getting to know some of the lady folk.

Run Like the Wind! Adam McFarland is itching for a pass so he can show these Lake Charles kids what he's made of.

Feel the Burn! Ballard Johnson and Walter Elder are leading their fellow team members in warm-ups.

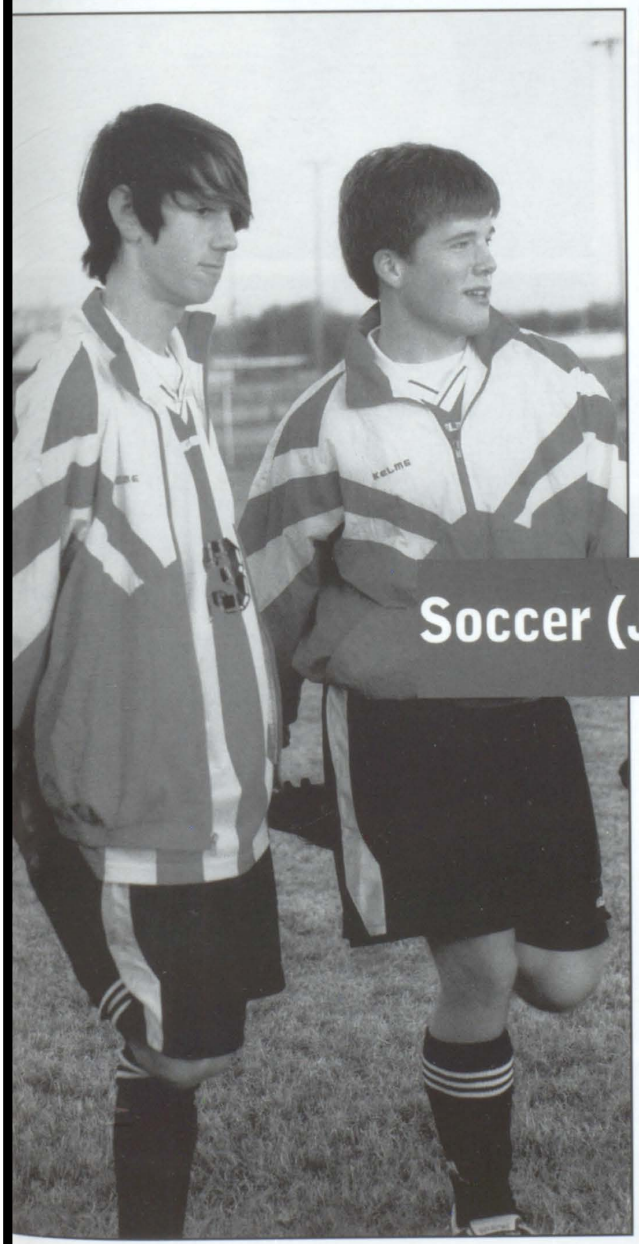

"I love being on JV because we are such an awesome team!" -Chris Byran,sophomore

"Being on the field makes me feel like a prince!" -Blaine Calahan, junior

If Only I Were A Flamingo. Slade Walker and Chris Bryan are stretching their quads before getting in on the action in their tournament.

Speed Demons

With their game faces on! At the Homecoming Spirit Rally the girls stood up and showed that they truly are the future of soccer in this world.

Who doesn't want to be a JV Soccer player? The skill, the grace, the ultimate persona embodied by a soccer player is seen in OUR JV Girl's Soccer Team. They pass with acuracy, they run with quickness, and they conquer all oponents who try to stop them on their quest to be the best. Yay, for soccer!

We've got speed! Charlotte Gates is able to easily manuver around this terrible Lady Gator. She helped to advance the ball up for the girls to score!

We are the Champions! Claire Skirvannos and Lolly Langman are all smiles after winning their first ever Shreve Cup. They showed the soccer world that they mean business!

JV Soccer

PLAYA PLEASE! Sophomore soccer captain Natalie O'Connor is all buisness out on the field. Those Byrd girls who call themselves soccer players better watch out.

Kickin it... Taylor Sparks, Venera Alidema, the wonderful Alejandro, Catherine Hiller, Claire Skirvanos, Natalie O'Connor, Brittany Bowers, Lolly Langman, Jessica Aguirre, Charlotte Gates, Rachel Russell, Lindsay Harter, Erin Smith, Amanda Giles, Tara Walsh, Elizabeth Robinson, Samantha Ortiz, Tommie Ho, Emily Marshall, and Savanah Porter show us why our JV is number one!

Oink Oink! Charlotte Gates and Tara Walsh started eating some healthful carbs for the big game against Shreve that night. Eat up, ladies!

Legs of Steel! Emily Marshall beats the Parkway Panther's sorry excuse for a run to the ball during the Airline Tournament.

Run Like the Wind

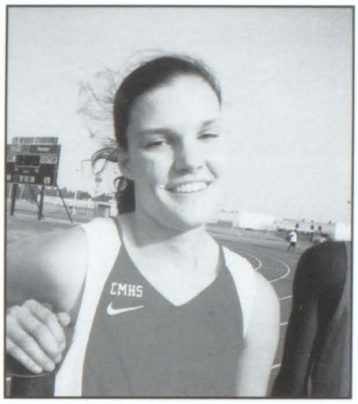

Statistics

Although there are only two girls on the team, they did very well! Brittany Willis did the Long Jump, Triple Jump, and 100m Hurdles. Caroline Canfield did the 320m (2 miles), 1600m (1 mile), and 800m (1/2 mile). They both won medals and represented Magnet in a great way.

I have really enjoyed Track. It has given me goals to set, and has pushed my limits. All of those tough and painful workouts paid off when we made it to regionals. I know I couldn't have made it that far if it wasn't for the support of a great team, Mrs. Ormand, and Mr. Bellar.

Hurdle Jumpers

Track is a sport which challenges the athlete to overcome many obstacles. One may run the one hundred meter dash, jump hurtles, and compete in the long jump competition. A track athlete is one who has great stamina and is very determined. This committed athlete trains for hours to perfect his timing, stamina and techniques.

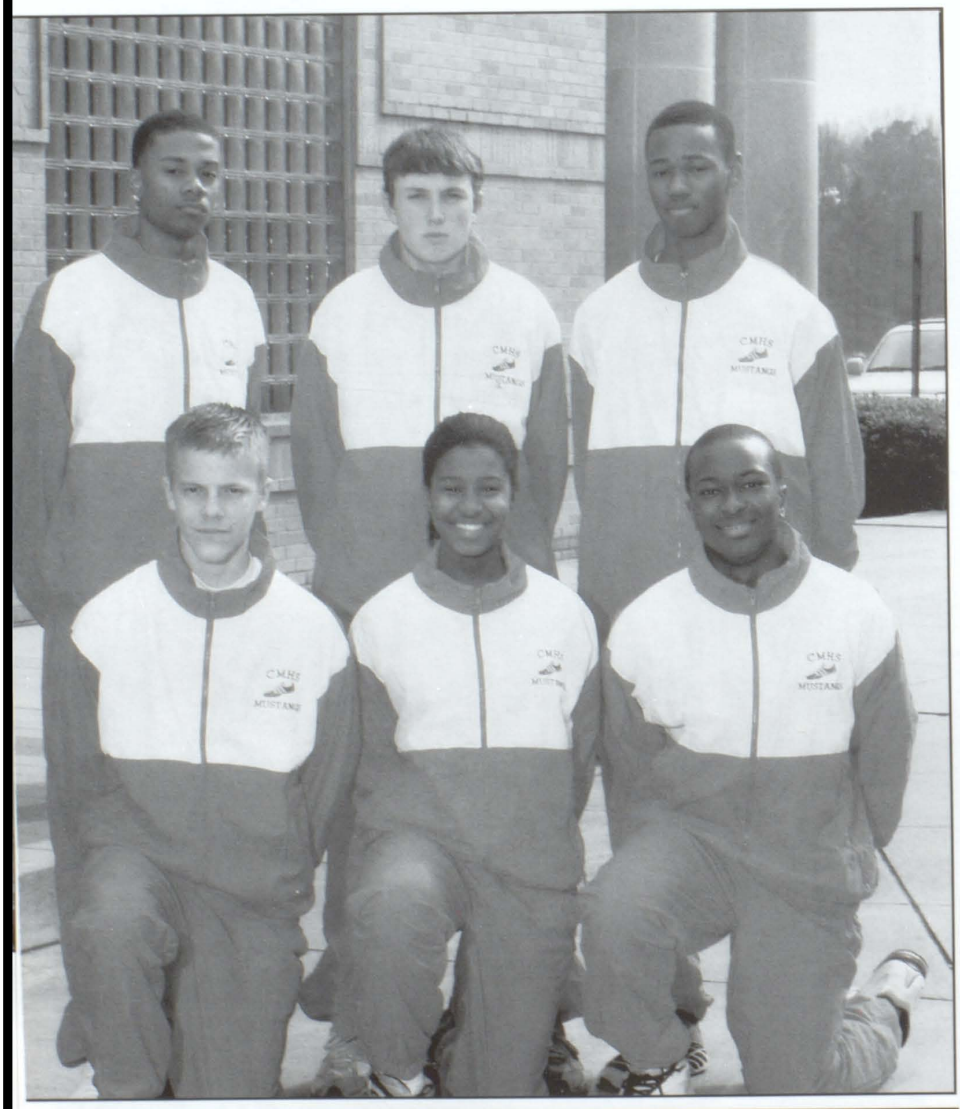

And they're on! Chiedu Odita and Edwin Noland run in the 3200 meter-dash at the district meet. They run fast like thorough-bred horses.

Go Caroline! Caroline Canfield hangs with the guys during the district meet. She argues with the boys that she can run faster than they can.

SHAKE YOUR BON-BO

With their ducks all lined up in a row... Open House proved to be a wonderful showcase of the Pony Express dancers' talent. The newies were awed!

"Danceline is just a way of life. Even though we practice such long hours, the end result is what we are going for. I love the girls on the squad, and we always have one heck of a time. From hangin' out late after school, to trips to New Orleans on that nice bus, we always know how to have a good time. I will always enjoy my memories of danceline!"

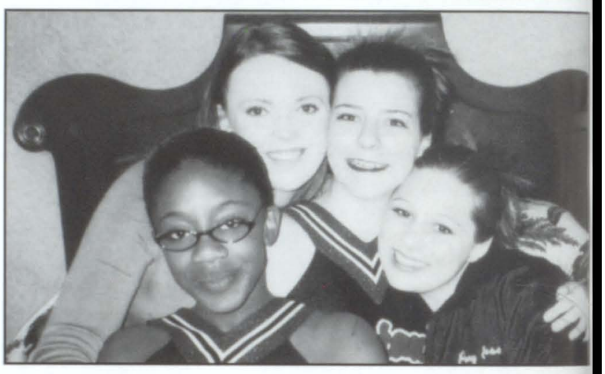

Terrica Wilson, 11th

Wishful thinking... Shaquaella Lewis, while hanging with her danceline gal pals, hopes that next year she too will be a varsity pony herself!

Kicked Back. . . Terrica Wilson, Melissa Howard, Raven Bryson, and Sheena Kelley take a break while waiting in their hotel room in New Orleans for a big ol' competition.

Erin Dorsey, Melissa Howard, Ashley McDaniel, Jessica Minard, Holly Minard, Carla Williams, Katie Firestone, Holly Robbins, Leanne Price, Jennifer Taylor, Sarah Johnson, Terrica Wilson, Raven Bryson, Allison Mills, Carly Waters, Beth Gusko, and Brittany Graham show the beauty of dancers.

Gotta love dancing. . . The girls enjoy their class being sixth hour because they can go straight into those vigorous practice sessions.

A bit of fresh air. . . Our wonderful ponies take a break for a trolly ride around New Orleans after a competition where they won the gold!

"The girls on the team just make me happy! They can always brighten my day!" Melissa Howard, 12th

"Pony Express completely rocks my socks off!" Leanne Price, 11th

Up close and personal... Decked out in warpaint, these girls prepare for kicking tail at their next competition.

OOOH, lookie there... The gorgeous Erin Dorsey and Sheena Kelley work up a sweat, but can still put on a smile.

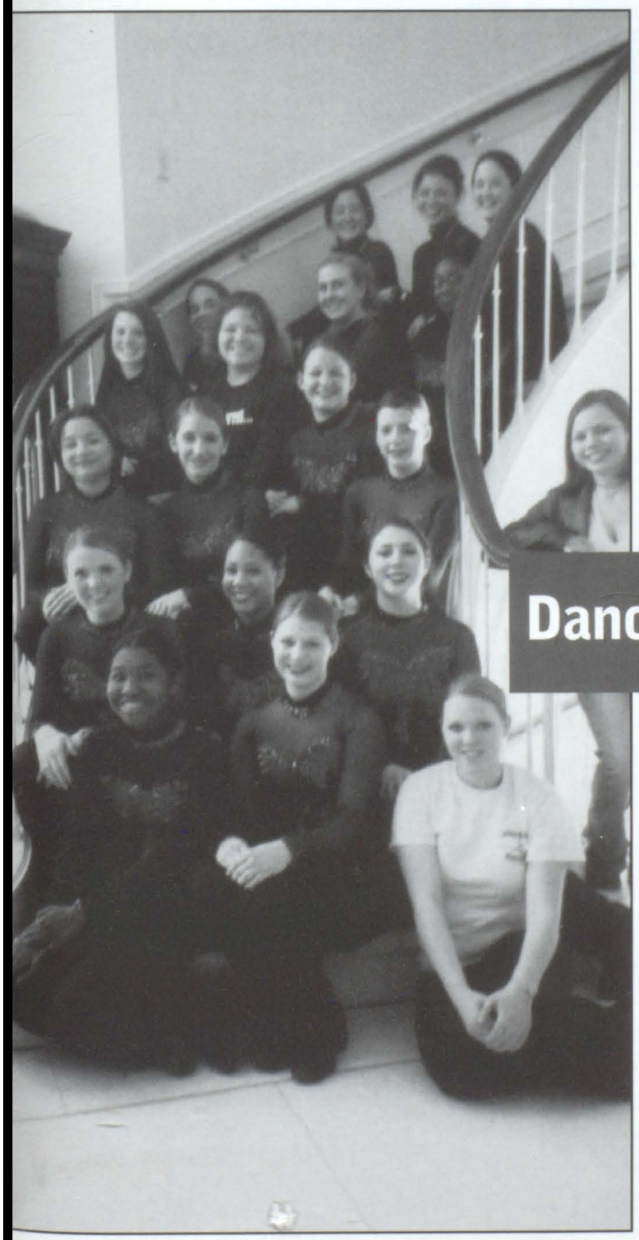

No jokers here... The girls show their winnings at the competition in New Orleans. Look at those trophies gleam!

Hot stuff... Terrica Wilson and Katie Firestone are all smiles during practice.

Spirit... No doubt about it danceline girls know how to look good.

R-E-S-P-E-C-T... Who doesn't love beautiful girls in spandex?! The team takes a moment while in New Orleans to show that these girls just want to have fun!

Dancline: n. Girls with long, lovely legs

Shake it fast... The danceline girls performed with the greatest of ease at Open House.

Bat those lashes girl... Danceline member Holly Robbins performs a skill that all athletes must exhibit: being able to change clothes in awkward positions at a moment's notice.

Is it a bird? A plane? No, it's a Pony Express Dancer leaping with vibrance!

All you Gotta do is Dance

Let's Rock Robin Westby and Ettadyesha Washington pose after finishing a dance routine.

Being on danceline is a great experience. The girls make each other laugh and there is a great bond between us. There is never a dull moment when you're around these girls. We work hard and always seem to get things done. Performing is also great. It gives a rush of energy. Thanks for a great year y'all!

And Now, a Word from the Sponsor

"Gymnastics is one of the few sports where an individual can compete for her/himself and also for a team. The girls have defended their LHSAA State Championship for the last four years. The boys have been the LHSAA State Runner-Up for the last four years. I think the guys can win this year if they hit all of their routines. We have really talented freshmen this year who can help us a lot. This is a great sport to coach."

Boys Cross Country by Sarah Kathryn and Suzanne

STIRRIN' UP DUST

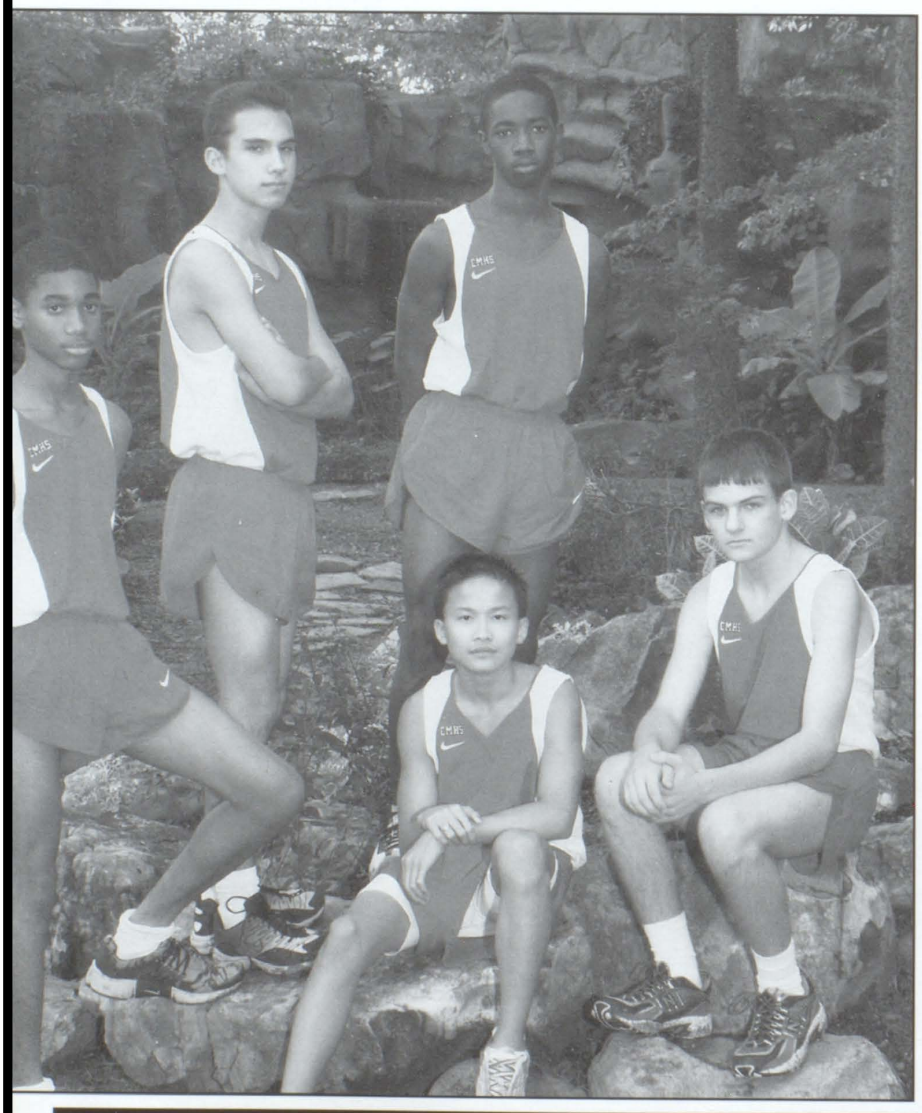

Being a member on the cross country team is a great experience. Teammates, like Westly, Edwin, and Jake make every moment fun. Coach Ormond is not only a great coach, but more importantly a great friend. She is a coach that cannot be replaced because of her interaction and concern with runners. This season has been tough, but the feeling of success makes it all worth while. -Binh Tran

Flexibility Counts Binh Tran stretches before the District Meet. His flexibilty is a true sign that he has good hamstrings which help him with his running.

At theTop Joeryll Irchirl sprints to the top of the hill at the Bossier meet. He was not only on top of the hill but also on top of the competition.

"Cross Country is a fall sport. The girls run a two-mile race in meets. It is very competitive and also self-motivating. We run in the woods, on hills, and in all kinds of weather. If it is raining or freezing cold, we're still out there. It's all a part of the sport."

- Caroline Canfield, senior

Make Us Proud. Varsity girls Taylor Robertson (2nd Team All District) and Blessing Enyenihi (1st Team All District) proudly stand with the trophies they earned.

And They're Off! The Varsity Girls warm up for the Natchitoches meet at Northwestern Campus. This meet was a challenge for the girls and helped them get closer to state.

Help me find my earring! Stretching is a routine for the team. "It helps me mentally prepare for the next meet," says Taylor Robertson.

Right On Her Heels. Holly Nagle sprints around her opponents as she prepares to take the lead at the Parkway meet.

"This rival girl I was running against was pushing me all through the meet. I left her in the dust." -Blessing Enyenihi

"I remember when we were with the boys' team, and Edwin Noland fell flat on his face while playing hacky sack." -Holly Nagle

The Leader of the Pack. Taylor Robertson accelerates at the start of the pre-state meet at Northwestern.

Try and Keep Up. Blessing Enyenihi sprints around the turn as Taylor Robertson closely follows at Northwestern.

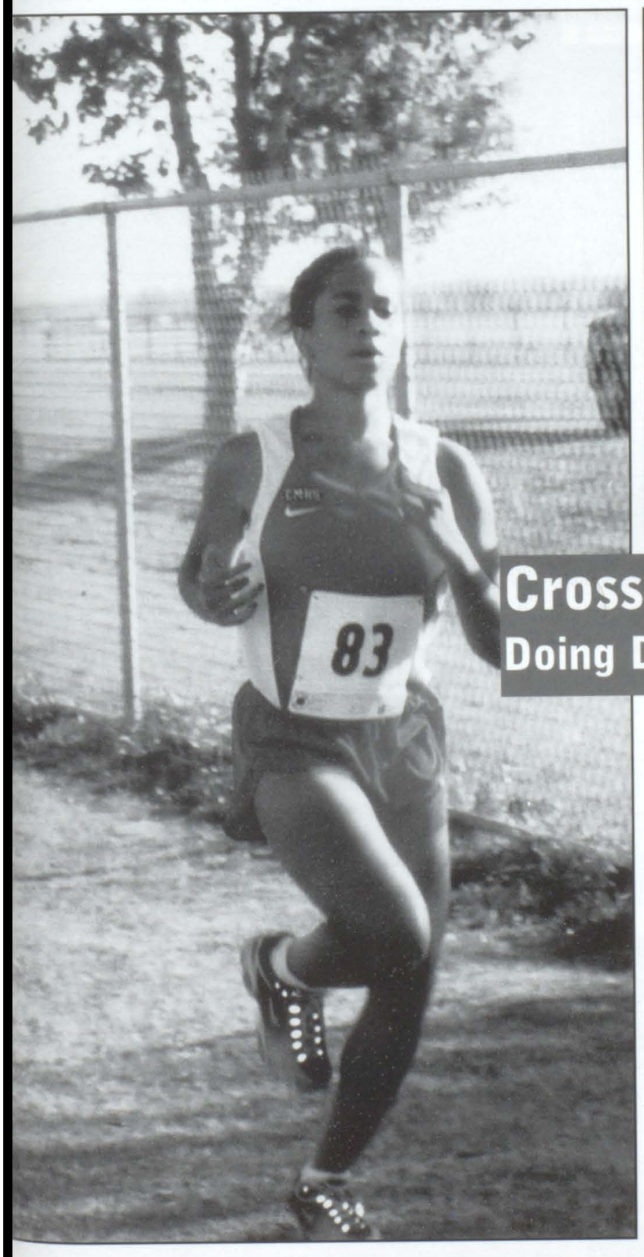

The Runners' Circle. "I love my teammates. They are better runners than I am though," says Chanelle McCoy.

Can't Touch This! Anna Beth Sanford races past another runner at the Byrd meet.

Lacrosse is a sport of high endurance, skill, and teamwork. It combines elements of soccer and hockey. The origins of the sport go back to a Native American warrior training game.

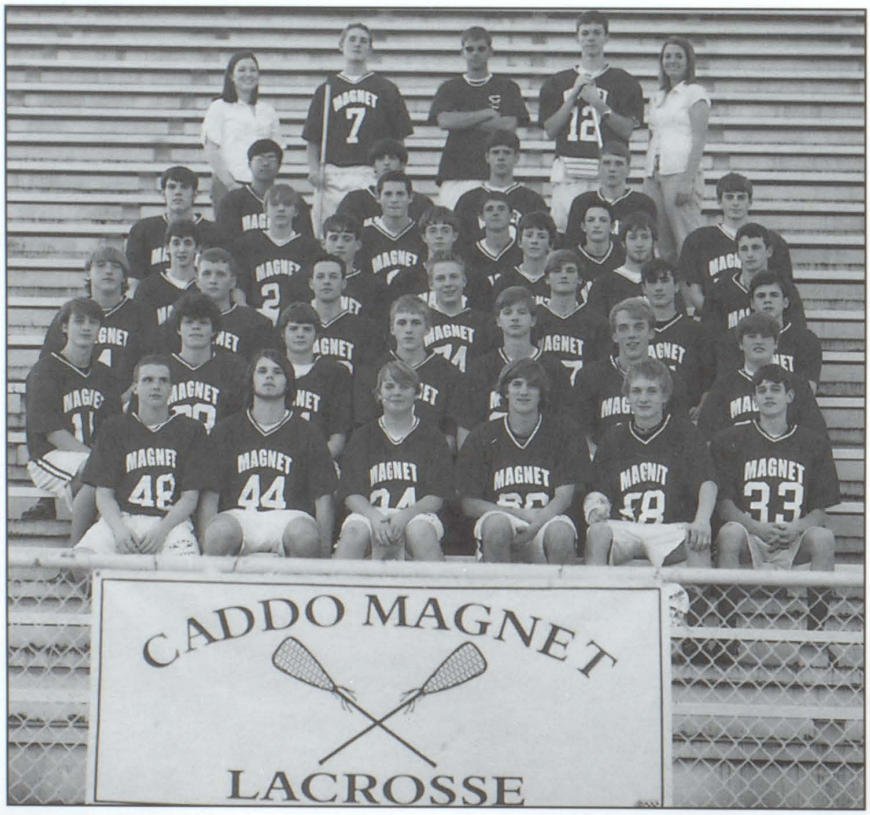

As Magnet's only full contact sport, the lacrosse team continues to excel with unmatched skill in this region for the 8th year. Hard practice, a desire to win, and unselfish teamwork made this year's scoreboard the best in Magnet's history.

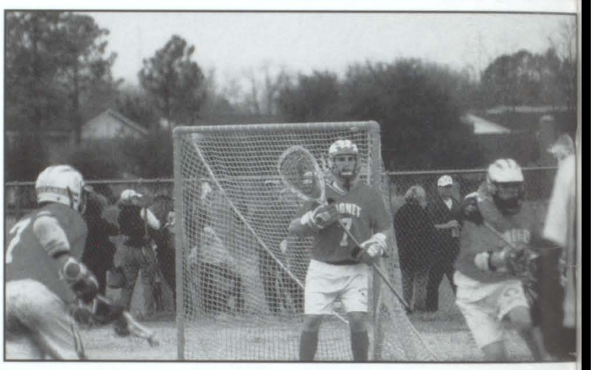

Go Big Red! Joshua Sparks looks for an open attackman after he outruns a Byrd player in the jamboree. Sparks often ignites the team's motivation with his speed.

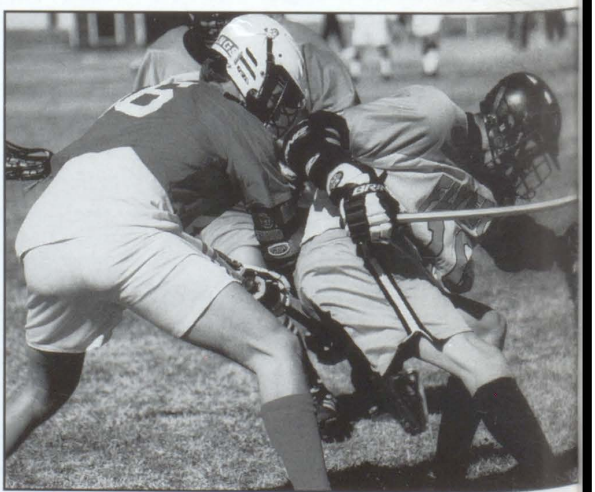

Pressure Point. Richard Yancey defends the goal as Kemerton Hargrove pushes an incoming attackman. Josh Downer prepares to back him up.

Lacrosse is one of the most challenging sports. Although, the girls' lacrosse team may not be one that always wins, it is definitely one that never really loses. On the trips to Dallas or in the annual Lax'n on the Red tournament, the team is constantly learning lessons about dedication as well as lessons of the game. The support and determination of teammates and their parents has helped the team to flourish successfully.

Run, Erin, Run! Right after intercepting the ball, Erin Guillory sprints with it down the field right out of reach of a Greenhill player.

Fight Fight Fight! The whole lacrosse team puts their sticks together before the game as they yell their chant for all to hear.

Call Me! While the offense works hard, Megan Wooley and Courtney Ritter gossip at the other end of the field.

I'm Open! Maneuvering carefully with the ball, Carrie Kinnaird, 11th, does all she can to fight off Byrd at a pivotal point in the game.

Sneakin'Up From Behind Even through lack of sleep and countless hours on a bus, Jennifer Moore, 11th, keeps up stamina to fight off her sly opponent.

Hole in One

Golf is one of the smaller sports at Magnet but that doesn't mean it should not be recognized. Coach Stokes is the sponsor/coach and the majority of the golf games are played at Querbes golf course. Michael Ameen, an essential player to the team, says that although they are not the top team in the city, there is definitely potential, and he's looking forward to seeing how Magnet does next year. Golf is a spring sport, and the members of the team play until the beginning May. Only eight guys were on the team this year and they expressed interest in recruiting people for next year. So come on and support your Magnet golf team, grab your clubs, and meet them down on the golf course.

(First ever district win!)

For the past three years I've played on Magnet's softball team. During these years I have seen the team improve from bad throws, bad catches, and many mistakes to always hitting the target, few dropped balls, and lots of team work. I am very proud of all my girls. To all- please remember to be careful on four-wheelers and never forget the best way to slide is in the mud puddles while it's freezing cold outside. --Captain Maryanne Hill

Keep your eye on this ball. Pitcher Mandy Brock prepares to strike out her opponent. She was the winning pitcher at the district game.

Huddle at the pitcher's mound! A few of the girls have an impassioned meeting before the game.

She's as good as out. Thoughts from first base lady Sarah Shelton as she focuses on the batter. At the district game she hit an RBI double accounting for all the girls' runs.
This is my water cooler! Catcher Sarah Day, Outfielder Raeann Garza and outfielder Leigh Camp take a break in the dugout.

Stand at Attention! Four ROTC cadets stand in formation and pay attention to the activities going on at the ceremony.

Drummin' Up Success. Cadet Private Joeryll Irchirl does double duty during the ceremony. He plays the drums and is a member of ROTC.

ROTC Inspection

Drill Alpha Company practices on February 11, 2003, the day of the validation visit.

The RFI process is a three year cycle that is governed by Cadet Command regulation 145-2. Inspection scores are based on the cadet's In-briefing to the inspecting officer; the In-ranks inspection of cadets; marching sequence by platoons; Company motivations; and Color guard performance.

Also considered are participation in parades, extracurricular, community service, summer camp participation, and formal events. Each color guard posting, competition, etc are reported to determine the total score. This is the foundation for the Unit Report that includes the Principal's assessment of the JROTC program. A total of 600 points is possible.

This year's visit was performed by LTC Dan Durr, the new Caddo Parish DAI, and was a validation visit designed to insure that standards are being maintained.

C/COL Blessing Enyenihi looks over C/1stSGT Hunter Robertson.

Federica Williams stands confidently during inspection.

Don't Blink! LTC Durr with Cadet John Walton and Jacob Milam of Alpha Company try hard to keep straight faces.

How's my uniform? Myeshia Carey makes sure Kaleshia Lister looks sharp for inspection.
Attention please! Adam Mastrodomenico, Deimari Odums, Travis Stone, and Aaron Woods-Lee cooperate during inspection.

You're next... Cadet Deimari Odums of Alpha Company is inspected while Cadet Adam Mastrodomenico waits his turn.

Concentration. Cheri of Alpha Company joins in the drill for inspection.

Nervous?! These ROTC cadets stand tall for the Validation visit of Headquaters February 11, 2003.

AssistantC/2nd LT Kelly Haynes assists LTC Durr during the inspection of A Company.

JROTC Military Ball

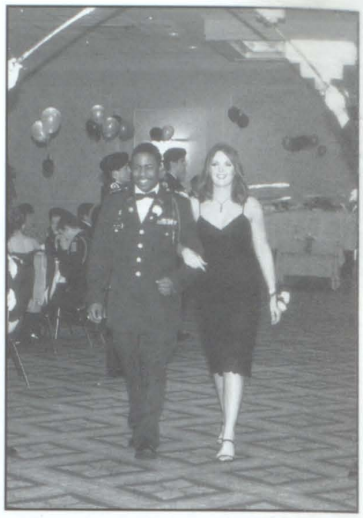

Congratulations. Joshua Sparks, Adam Mastrodeminico, and Joseph Hubley set up for military ball.
Cheers! JROTC seniors toast with their dates.

The Military Ball was March 8 at the Shreveport Sheraton. Two hundred cadets and invited guests attended this formal event where they ate and danced the night away.

The Awards ceremony was April 30 in the PAC. Over 50 awards were given to cadets for outstanding performance and contributions. The JROTC recognized this year's nominee for the Legion of Valor, cadet Joseph Hubley, and conducted a change of command for the battalion and companies.

Don't Trip! Senior LaMarcus Nelson and date Melissa Howard walk under the Arch of Steel, making a grand entrance.

Post the Colors The JROTC Color Guard post the colors at Military Ball as Senior Patrick Robertson and his date look on.

Awards Ceremony

What a Blessing. C/COL Enyenihi, a vital component of Magnet High's ROTC program, recieves an award from LTC Foster.

A Grateful Smile. LTC Foster recognizes C/MAJ Mik and C/MAJ LaFontant for their superb performances as STAFF officers.

VROOM, VROOM! CSM Warren shows off the new wheels given to him by the JROTC class of 2003.

A Job Well Done. Cadet Frazier recieves an award from Assistant Principal Queen Snyder onstage at the JROTC Award Ceremony

And the award goes to... Warren presents Cheidu Odita with a prestigious award.

College Bound C/MAJ Westly LaFitte receives a standing ovation and a plaque because he was accepted to and plans to attend West Point.

Health Fair

Type A Cadets Russ Stevens and Chris Roberts give blood on Saturday at the Valencia Center.

The Caddo Magnet High School "Mustang Battalion" conducted a Mini-health Fair at E.BB. Williams Lab School April 11 and 12 at the Valencia Community Center. The events featured drug awareness education, refreshments, games, and interactive exhibits to demonstrate the importance of exercise, nutrition, and hygiene. Saturday's event also included live entertainment by DJ Jabberjaws and a Lifeshare blood drive. The Friday event was attended by over 225 students, and approximately 600 people came on Saturday from Stoner Hill.

Double Dutch. Two ROTC cadets help an attendee of the Health Fair jump rope.

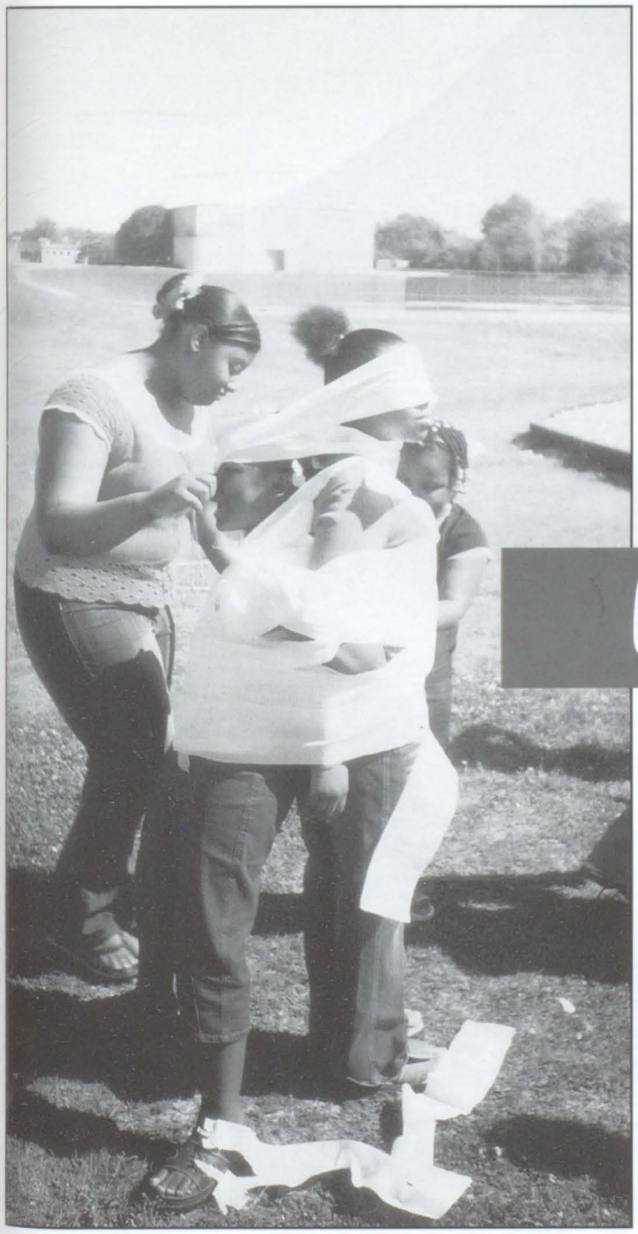

Get a Leg Up. CSM Warren shows perfect stretching techniques at the Fitness Booth at the Mini Health Fair.

Patience, Please. Cadet Nastissa Davis paints children's faces at Stoner Hill Elementary School.

Just Say NO. Cadets Aaron Woods-Lee and Erica Vogler teach drug awareness education.

Ring Around the Rosie. Cadets supervise and look on as students have a ball playing musical chairs. The cadets mixed fun with education.

Are You My Mummy? Four participants do the "mummy wrap" at the Valencia Center.

Lemonade and Oreos. Cadets pass out refreshments to Stoner Hill students.

Don't Let It Fall. A Stoner Hill Elementary student concentrates very hard on keeping his hula hoop around his waist.

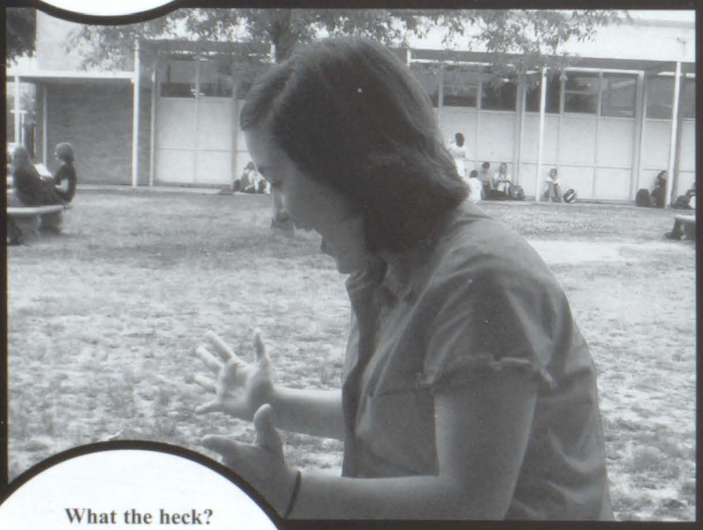

Stretch Yourself. Cadet Teal Buckner watches as a student learns the value of proper excercise.

Scooter, One of your first cars! You've outgrown barbie, but not cars, it seems. We love you and know you will be a success. You're too stubborn not to! (Horsie-cow!?) Love, Dad, MaMa, and Granddaddy

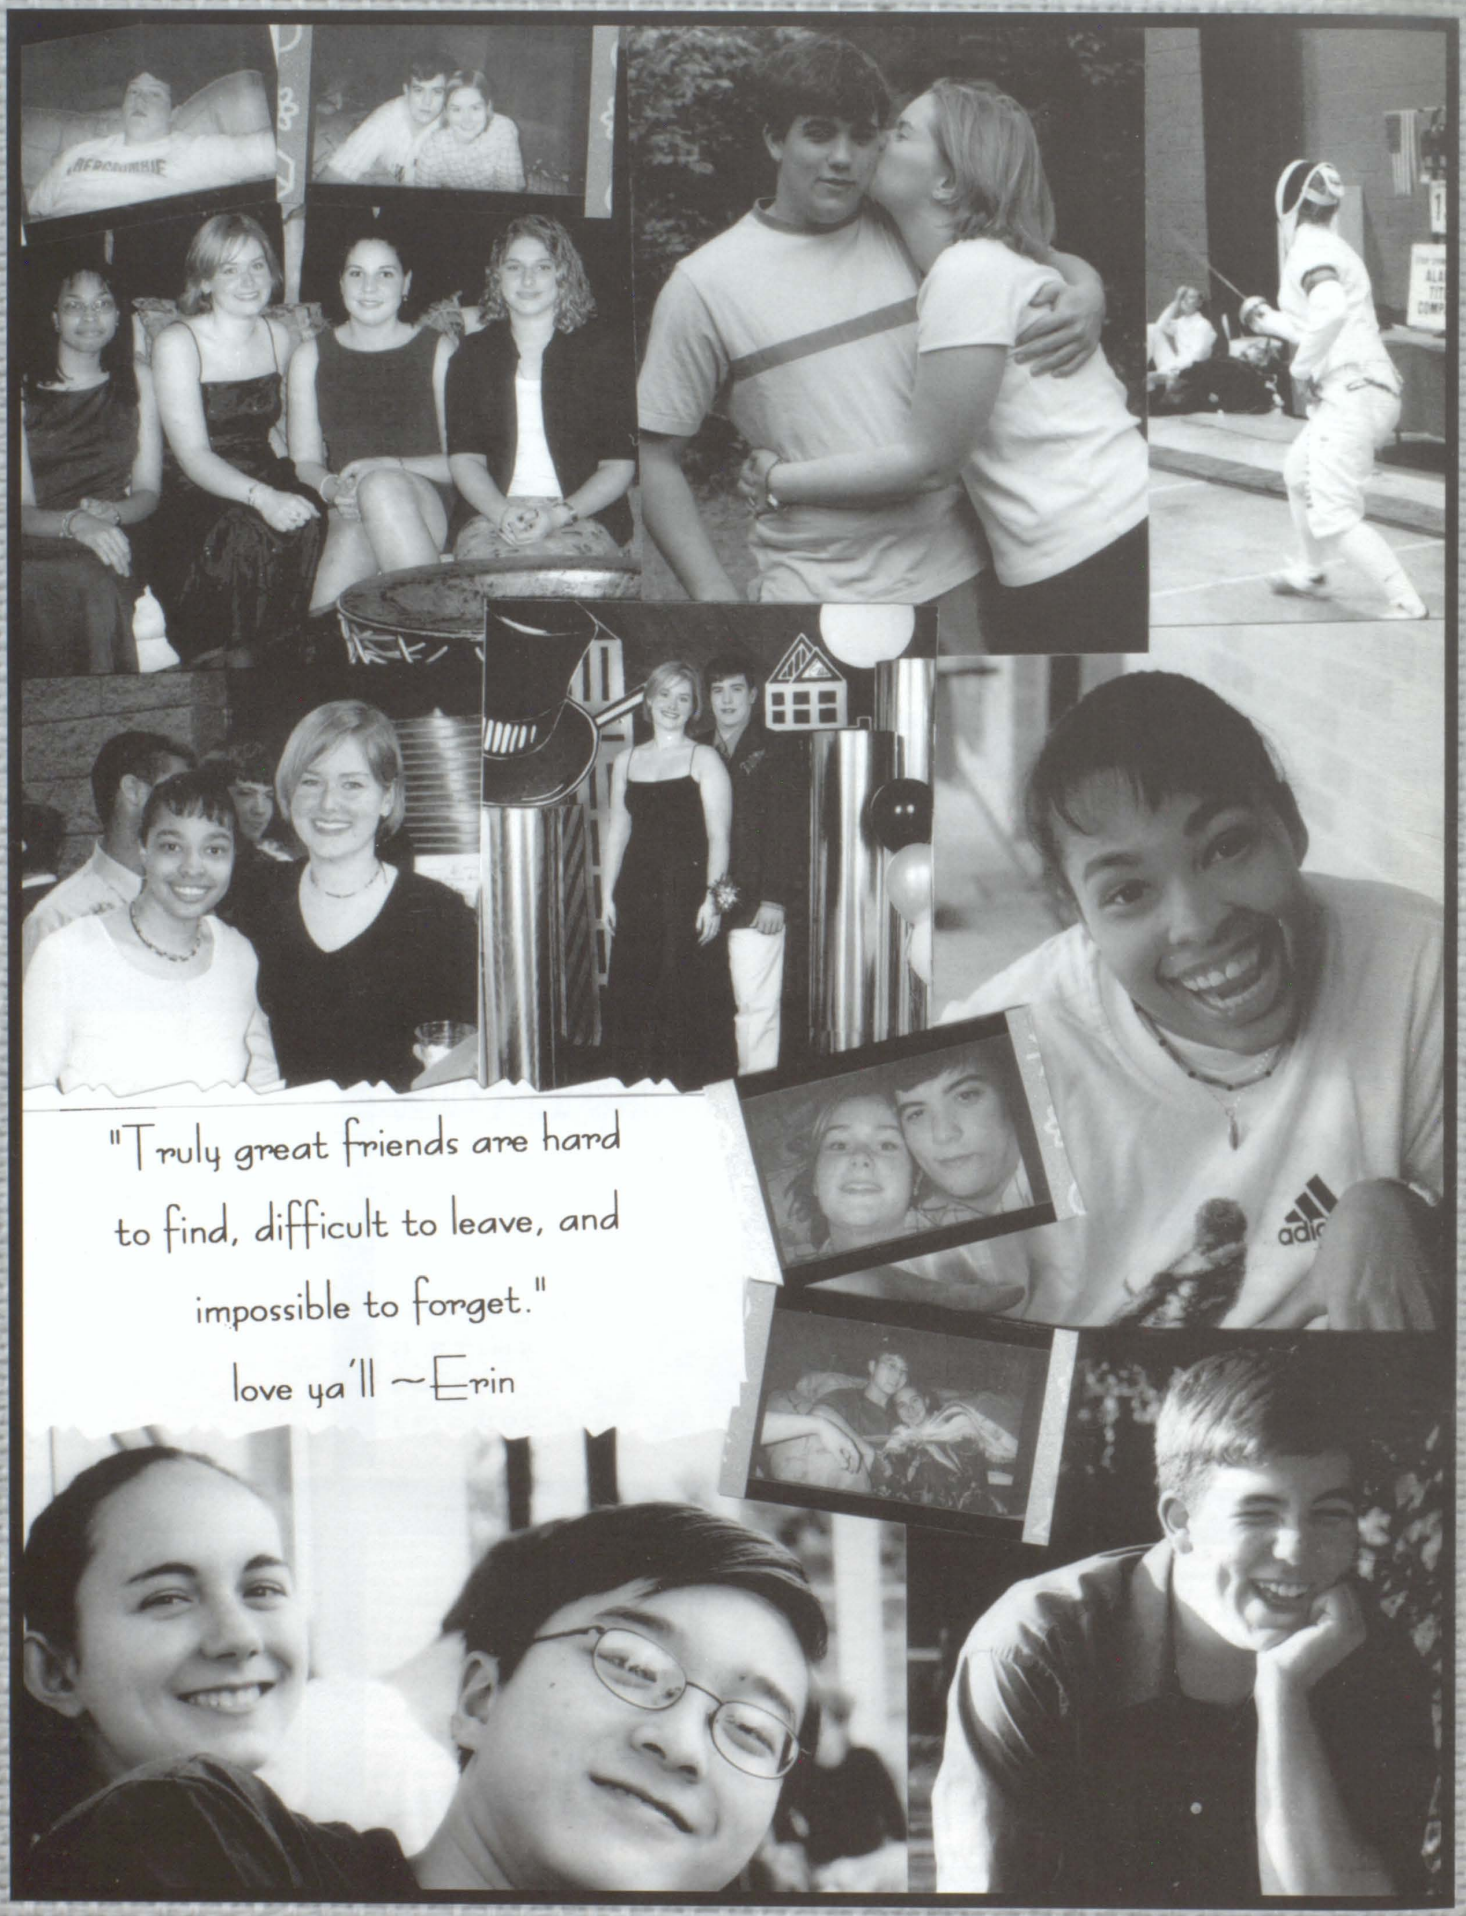

Kristin Elizabeth Timmons

You liked to make mudpies when you were little! Life was simple then; You were cute in braids or hair flying loose- didn't matter then- Now you are all grownup; Life's not as simple now. Still cute, but more like a lovely young lady. Soar high and enjoy the view. Love, Mom, Carly, Ken and PaPa

The 2003 Odyssey is a book of pictures, copy, and artwork collected as memories of the 2002-2003 school year. It was created by a select group of 15 students who worked on it under the supervision of their adviser, Mrs. McGuire, during their 4th-period yearbook class. The 670 copies were printed with a 9" by 12" laminated litho cover. The cover artwork was created by the staff. Process color was used in multiples, 1,2,3,4,5,6,7,8,9,10,11, and 32. 100% of the book was desinged on eleven PC compatible computers using Adobe Pagemaker 6.5. There is a 16-page Worldbeat supplement created by Josten's between pages 32 and 33. The yearbooks are printed in Topeka, Kansas, by Josten's School Publishing Group and cost in excess of $48.000. David Baker is our Josten's representative.

Dear Jack,
From the beginning you have filled our lives with occasional anguish and fear but mostly inexpressible delight and joy. You were the most precious five year old boy that ever lived. You are a very special young man. Now it's your turn to show the world who you are and what you can do.

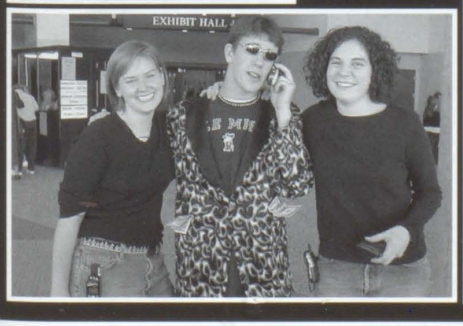

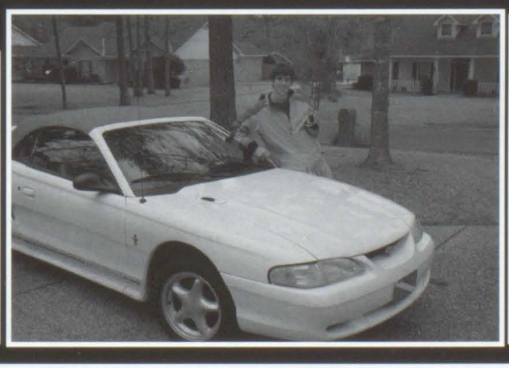

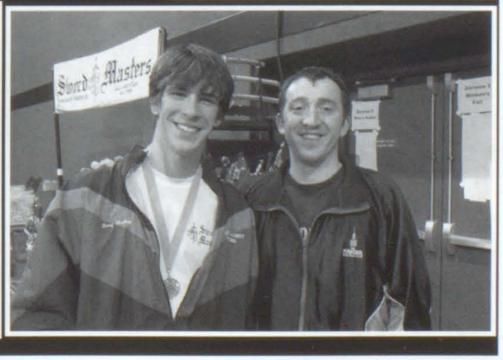

"I love you forever, I like you for always. As long as I'm living, my baby you'll be."
We love you beyond your ability to understand.

it's 3:30 and the final bell has rung for the 2002 - 2003 school year. We are now thrown out into the world to conquer the unknown. The summer possibilities are endless; our lifetime possibilities are endless too. With the vast knowledge we have gained, the caring friends we have made, and the wonderful memories we have shared, we set out with a new outlook on life. These things will never leave us; they have made an imprint on our lives and we will never exactly be able to describe them because they are truly More Than Words.
